Rangers Prepare Hot Reception for Any Island Invaders

Sign of Nazi Cracking Seen by Moscow, London

LONDON (CP) — Reuters today said the Berlin correspondent of the National Zeitung of Basel, Switzerland, had cabled that the German public "was astonished at Hitler's demand Sunday for such far-reaching powers."

The writer was quoted as saying it was the "sharpest appeal ever made to the German people."

Reuters quoted the Berlin correspondent of the Baseler Nachrichten of Basel as saying the German capital was "surprised that Hitler was silent on past German successes and that his usual prediction as to the course of events was lacking."

That Hitler, who became Germany's military as well as civil overlord during the winter crisis on the Soviet front, should now demand strengthening of his dictatorial powers was hailed both in Britain and Russia as a sign that Nazism's home front is cracking.

The London Daily Herald said it would not be surprised if Hitler planned a purge "or some move so desperate that its accomplishment will necessitate a purge."

Another gloomy note was struck for Germany by Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, who has told friends Germany cannot open up any new front this year. Reuters quoted an Istanbul dispatch to the independent French news agency to this effect.

Von Papen was said to have declared Germany must defeat Russia before fall because she cannot face a fourth winter of war, and that she must muster all her available strength to this end.

The London News-Chronicle headed its editorial "Madman at Bay" and declared the grand strategy of the war is becoming apparent—that the Japanese menace is a handicap to the United Nations' war effort but that it is inevitable the war can be decided only in Europe.

This newspaper agreed that the speech showed something is wrong in Germany and noted that, while it was announced before hand he would have a sensational statement, there was nothing world-shaking in what he said.

"Most of it is the stuff that the Fuehrer's hideous dreams made of those fantastic perversions of history that seem in cold print the ravings of a lunatic," the News-Chronicle said.

"Liberation of tortured Europe from the madman who controls it may come more quickly than a year ago seemed possible."

G. Ward Price, the Daily Mail's analyst, declared Hitler's speech "of all his harangues to the Reichstag was the most mysterious" and meant that he was confronted by "the shadow of opposition within Germany."

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Cordell Hull said today it looks as if Hitler is beginning to take a desperate view of Germany's chances in the war.

Commenting on the Fuehrer's speech to the Reichstag Sunday, Hull termed it a rather frantic address to a hastily-assembled group of officials. The very manner of this urgent meeting, he said, raised the question of how desperately Hitler must be viewing the situation.

The secretary declined comment on reports from Vichy that the French ambassador here had been instructed to protest against the landing of United States troops on New Caledonia, French island possession in the Pacific controlled by Free French forces.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary Morgenthau said this afternoon the treasury will be ready by tomorrow to advise Congress on how to place a $25,000 net ceiling on individual incomes after taxes have been paid.

LONDON (CP) — The R.A.F. shot down 10 German fighters during offensive patrols over northern France today, it was announced tonight.

Two British bombers and nine fighters were lost in the sweeps carried out by a large force of Boston bombers and bomb-carrying Hurricanes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. navy officials this afternoon said a small Panamanian merchant vessel had been torpedoed off the Atlantic coast and that survivors had been landed at an east coast port.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Duke of Windsor, Governor of the Bahamas, arrived in Miami unexpectedly today from Nassau for a one-day visit. He went to the Miami naval air station for a conference with officials.

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP) — Premier Hepburn of Ontario today used no gasoline when he traveled two miles from his home in South Yarmouth to vote in the plebiscite in the village of Union. He and Mrs. Hepburn went the distance on horseback.

Jersey City, N.J. (AP) — The motorman of a Hudson River tube train which piled up Sunday night, killing five persons and injuring 262, was held for grand jury action this afternoon on a charge of operating a public conveyance while under the influence of liquor.

A manslaughter charge was filed against the motorman, Louis A. Vierbuchen, 48, of Newark. (Earlier story, page 14.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt and the bulk of 13,000,000 other Americans in the 45 to 65 age group were called on to register today to complete, except for the 18 to 20-year-olds, the United States' inventory of manpower for both fighting and noncombatant war duty.

To minimize interference with work on war jobs, the second biggest enrollment since the war started began in some areas over the week-end and will continue after today where necessary.

Have You Marked Your Ballot?

Polling Heavy Here, Can Vote to 8 p.m.

A heavy morning vote supported forecasts of a record reply to Canada's manpower plebiscite in Victoria today as citizens thronged early to their district polling stations.

With polls remaining open until 8 tonight and with stations located in every district, officials had good reason to expect a continuation of the volume shown in the early hours.

The importance of the issue and the arrangements to facilitate balloting left little excuse to the citizen for refusing to answer the question placed before him or her.

Sydney Child, returning officer here, reported continuous telephone calls from those seeking last-minute information on the location of their polling stations and referred them to the slips left by enumerators which bear the required address.

No incidents of any note had been reported to noon today.

Those not listed may still vote up to 8 tonight provided they can prove their right to the franchise by taking an oath and securing identification at the polling station from a registered voter living in their own division.

Early returns on the vote are expected to be released about 9 tonight and the preliminary count for the Victoria area should be in by 10. The official count, verifying tonight's figures, will be made Wednesday.

In Vancouver, returning officers predicted a record vote as voting began briskly with the opening of polls. Heaviest voting there is expected during the last three hours.

Edmonton and Calgary also said a fairly heavy vote was indicated. Polling was moderate at Lethbridge.

To ensure the vote in certain sections of the Peace River country, where thaws have made roads impassable and ice break-ups have injured plane landing fields, ballot boxes were dropped by C. P. airlines to officials below.

For Jules Castonguay, chief plebiscite officer, the vote today marked the first time in 20 years he had exercised the franchise. His office prevents him from voting in general elections.

OTTAWA (CP) — War Services Minister Thorson announced today a "central pool" is to be set up immediately in Britain to handle the distribution of all bulk gifts of food in that country. The new agency will be known officially as the "Overseas Gifts (Food) Allocations Centre."

Besides gifts of food sent by individuals to relatives, friends and members of the armed services, considerable quantities go to Britain in bulk from charitable organizations and societies of many countries.

"The new agency is intended to give more equitable distribution to these bulk shipments in terms of the need of the various communities, and in the event of special emergencies as in the case of heavily blitzed areas," Mr. Thorson's statement said.

Corregidor Guns Disperse Japs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States war department reported today that artillery fire from besieged Corregidor fortress broke up a Japanese troop concentration on the nearby Bataan peninsula in the Philippines and set afire a number of enemy motor trucks.

In the first communique covering fighting in the Philippines issued by the war department in five days, it was announced that Corregidor had experienced its 250th air raid alarm.

Both Corregidor and Fort Hughes, on an adjacent island, were attacked by dive bombers, which also bombed small harbor boats.

Japanese artillery shelled Corregidor heavily for four hours from positions in Bataan and on the south shore of Manila Bay.

The communique disclosed also that the troops landed on the Free French island of New Caledonia about 800 miles east of Australia were commanded by Maj.-Gen. Alexander M. Patch Jr.

The vote in Ottawa started off fairly heavy as people went to the polls before going to work.

The early vote was light in Halifax, but officials there said this was not unusual. In Saint John, the volume of voting was said to be fairly proportionate.

WOMEN VOTING

Officials in Winnipeg reported a great number of women in Winnipeg voting early, with a fairly heavy vote indicated generally.

Edmonton and Calgary also said a fairly heavy vote was indicated. Polling was moderate at Lethbridge.

NORWAY PATRIOTS REDOUBLE EFFORTS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Kharkovsk radio, in eastern Siberia, today reported widespread sabotage and revolt among the people of Trondheim and strong measures by the German Gestapo to cope with the situation.

Trondheim is the port city of occupied Norway where important units of the German navy are believed to have been based recently.

"The city and suburbs have been transformed into military camps by the Germans," said the broadcast, quoting Stockholm sources.

"Thousands of Norwegians are forced out of their homes. Schools are changed into barracks. Hitlerites have forced thousands of Norwegian workers into building fortifications along the shoreline and harbor of the city."

The report was picked up here by the CBS shortwave listening station.

"At many points along the coast in the vicinity of the city, the inhabitants were notified to get out and move into the hinterland within 24 hours," it continued.

"The Gestapo, when enforcing these regulations, met with resistance, and many skirmishes were fierce and bloody."

Opposition Shadow Arises in Germany

Most British reaction reflected the surmise of the London Daily Mail that "the shadow of opposition" had arisen within Germany.

Hitler in The London Times' view, has found himself "impotent to bring his war to a victorious conclusion" and, as compensation, has made himself "supreme law lord."

The Moscow radio called the speech "a sure sign that the Nazis see the approach of their end," and declared that Hitler's assumption of still greater power "made it abundantly clear that he had no other alternative than to admit his utter failure in the field and at home."

"Colonel Britton" Asks for Uprising

(Reflecting the fears of internal dissension, read by many listeners into Hitler's speech, Britain's "Col. Britton," the radio voice which has been fostering and guiding the V-for-Victory campaign, has electrified his hearers by calling on them to prepare for united action. Probably within six weeks, says the spectacular "colonel," the sign will be given for the civilian uprising.)

Another gloomy note was struck for Germany by Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, who has told friends Germany cannot open up any new front this year. Reuters quoted an Istanbul dispatch to the independent French news agency to this effect.

Reds, Nazis Spar for Position

2,000 Finns Slain In Lapland Battle

LONDON (CP)—Nearly 2,000 Finnish troops were reported killed last week in a Russian offensive in frozen Lapland as the Red army pushed forward in a spring advance likened to the one of two years ago which ended in Finland's defeat.

Stockholm reports said the Russians had captured Bork, 20 miles southwest of the German stronghold of Novgorod on the front between Moscow and Leningrad. The Russians were said to have cut the railroad linking the Novgorod garrison with the remnants of the trapped German 16th Army at Staraya Russa.

NAZIS OUTFLANKED

London military experts said the Nazi positions north and south of Lake Ilmen had been outflanked and that their communications with the rear were threatened.

The battle lines in the far north were drawn up well inside the Finnish frontier of 1939 and the Soviet troops were reported demonstrating all along the battlefield that they held the initiative firmly.

The Russians were pressing home telling blows against the disheartened Finns in an effort to knock them out of the war and protect the Arctic ports of Murmansk and Archangel.

Leningrad reports of successful defence against raiding Axis planes indicated the Germans were using every available aircraft in an effort to cripple the Red army while the Nazis prepared for an offensive.

Mixed Finnish and German crews were used in the north by planes which bombed Leningrad, machine-gunned troop concentrations and battered at roads, bridges and artillery batteries.

The Moscow radio said "Russian commandos" had made successful reconnaissance raids behind German positions at an unspecified point.

SPAR FOR OPENING

KUIBYSHCHEV (AP)—The Russian and German armies battled unceasingly for openings today in small-scale but fierce fights along a thawing front and the belief persisted here they might unleash their full fury in major action at any moment.

The Soviet Information Bureau communique broadcast from Moscow, however, said the situation remained unchanged. It reported only minor patrol engagements and guerrilla activities along the whole front from Leningrad to Sebastopol in which, it said, the Germans lost more than 1,645 men killed and wounded. Red army forces on the Kalinin front were credited with destroying 12 German tanks in one day.

While the Red army held its ground against strong German attacks and the German air force subjected Leningrad, Russia's second city, to three straight days of raids, reports reaching this alternative capital from the fighting line 650 miles away said both the Nazis and the Soviets are bringing up huge reserves.

Sixty-three heavy German bombers attacked Leningrad Sunday. The Germans first attacked Friday with 72 bombers escorted by fighters; the raid continued Saturday and Red Star, the Russian army newspaper, called it the "biggest air activity over the city since last autumn."

'Cradle to Grave' Control

Need More Readjustment In Canadian Mode of Life

TORONTO (CP)—A considerable measure of adjustment in the Canadian mode of living is in sight as present inventories which have cushioned the effect of curtailments and prohibitions are exhausted, R. C. Berkinshaw, chairman of the Wartime Industries Control Board said today.

Addressing the Toronto Canadian Club, Mr. Berkinshaw said it was inevitable that still other adjustments in the habits of civilian life and thought must eventually follow.

"Yet I feel that Canadians are more than ready to face the economic and social realities of an intensive all-out war effort," he said.

"The magnitude of our war effort will be directly conditioned by the extent to which we, the Canadian people, can sacrifice luxuries, comforts and even so-called necessities."

Mr. Berkinshaw said that as chairman of the Wartime Industries Control Board he has approved since last August more than 100 formal orders of the controllers who form the board orders which touch industry at many points, and, through it, civilian life in all its phases.

"I almost said from the cradle to the grave," in as much as the steel controller has ordered that no steel be released for baby carriages and has prohibited the production of metal coffins," Mr. Berkinshaw said.

In spite of the cheerful acceptance of restrictions, there was still present in the minds of many an underestimation of the gravity of the situation. Until six months ago the United Nations had controlled sources of raw materials far superior to those of the Axis powers. When Japan struck "our statistical stockpile superiority vanished before our eyes."

Primarily we must face the fact that no matter how we may finance the war, its real cost in terms of effort, sacrifice and of material is something that we must bear as we go along," Mr. Berkinshaw said.

$25,000 Net Top U.S. Salary

F.D.R. Would Freeze Wages, Living Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt said in a message to Congress today that during the war "no American citizen ought to have a net income, after he has paid his taxes, of more than $25,000 a year" in proposing to Congress a seven-point program designed to combat the upward spiral in living costs.

The President proposed stabilization of wages and salaries of individuals, saying, "I believe that stabilizing the cost of living will mean that wages in general can and should be kept at existing levels" and asked repeal of the provisions of the price-fixing law which allows farm commodities to rise 110 per cent of parity. (Parity is the price designed to give the farmer a return, based on industrial purchases, enjoyed in a 1909-14 base period.)

Mr. Roosevelt also declared it was "indefensible that those who enjoy large incomes from state and local securities should be immune from taxation while we are at war" and urged that state, municipal and similar bonds, "be subject at least to surtaxes."

Keeps 40-Hour Week Extra Overtime Pay

Flatly opposing suspension of the 40-hour work week law, the President said:

"Most workers in munitions industries are working far more than 40 hours a week, and should continue to be paid at time and a half for overtime. Otherwise, their weekly pay envelopes would be reduced."

14-YEAR-OLD GIRL CHARGED, MURDER

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—Fourteen-year-old Ruby Campbell will appear in open court next Monday charged with the murder of her 68-year-old father, Robert Campbell, it was decided by Magistrate E. C. Spearman at a closed session of juvenile court here today.

After court the Magistrate announced the case would be proceeded with by way of indictment. Campbell died instantly Saturday in his farm home 10 miles from nearby Dundalk when he was shot with a .22 calibre rifle. A bullet went through his heart.

The girl, who is alleged to have fired the shot after an altercation in the Campbell's claphouse, was brought by police late Saturday to a children's shelter here, where she remained until today. After her appearance before Magistrate Spearman, she was removed to the county jail.

Commenting on the case, Attorney-General Gordon Constant said in Toronto today that under the Criminal Code a person of more than 14 years of age may be convicted of a crime.

The Attorney-General said, however, that the code also contains a provision concerning the competency of a person knowing the nature and consequences of his or her act and of appreciating it was wrong. The girl was said to be three months past her 14th birthday.

WAR NOT YET WON, JAP PEOPLE TOLD

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts, AP)—Premier Hideki Tojo said today that despite successive Japanese victories, "the war still has to be fought."

He declared in an address that "recent developments" showed the United States and Britain have been forced to reckless actions because of successive defeats in the Pacific.

He did not specify these developments, but Dornel said the phrase might be taken to refer to the "United States stunt air attacks on Japan itself."

(Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe and Nagoya were bombed nine days ago, and air alarms were sounded on several days afterwards.)

"The war's coming stage will be a real test for the Japanese nation, and will demand the nation's utmost unity," he declared.

"The Japanese people must always bear in mind the fact that we are still in the midst of a great war. Even we who are behind the lines must be of the same mind as the troops at the front and be fully prepared to cope with any attack on Japan itself, and in that way help operations of our men at the front."

"With unalterable determination we must carry on to final victory, completely destroying Anglo-American influence."

Mr. Roosevelt reported that "all strikes are at a minimum."

The President will discuss the program in a broadcast address tomorrow night, Senator Alben Barkley said after a White House conference. The hour was not announced immediately.

The program, outlined in the message which was read to the Senate and the House of Representatives by clerks, is the administration's plan for gearing the economy of the nation and its people to emergency war conditions.

The President also proposed heavy taxes, holding personal and corporate profits to reasonable levels, stabilization of prices received by farmers, discouraging credit and installment buying, rationing of all essential scarce commodities, and stimulation of purchase of war bonds.

Call for New Laws

Only taxes and stabilization of farm prices, Mr. Roosevelt said, require legislative action.

But he added: "I assure the Congress that if the required objectives are not attained, and if the cost of living should continue to rise substantially, I shall so advise the Congress, and shall ask for any additional legislation which may be necessary."

Mr. Roosevelt said there were obvious reasons for taking every step necessary to prevent a rise in the cost of living, which already has moved up about 15 per cent since the autumn of 1939, and which might soar "another 80 per cent or 90 per cent during the next year or two."

Lists 7 Objectives To Keep Costs Down

These were the objectives which the President listed for Congress:

"1. To keep the cost of living from spiraling upward, we must tax heavily, and in that process keep personal and corporate profits at a reasonable rate, the 'reasonable' being defended at a low level.

"2. We must fix ceilings on the prices which consumers, retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers pay for the things they buy; and ceilings on rents for dwellings in all areas affected by war industries.

"3. We must stabilize the remuneration received by individuals for their work.

"4. We must stabilize the price received by growers for the products of their lands.

"5. We must encourage all citizens to contribute to the cost of winning this war by purchasing war bonds with their earnings instead of using those earnings to buy articles which are not essential.

"6. We must ration all essential commodities of which there is a scarcity, so that they may be distributed fairly among consumers and not merely in accordance with financial ability to pay high prices for them.

"7. We must discourage credit and installment buying, and encourage the paying off of debts, mortgages, and other obligations; for this promotes savings, retards excessive buying and adds to the amount available to the creditors for the purchase of war bonds."

THREE-PRONGED DRIVE—Map indicates direction of latest Jap thrusts against Mandalay and Lashio in the heart of Burma. Heads of arrows show where thrusts have reached, dotted lines indicating direction. In line with centre arrow Chinese today recaptured Hopong.

CHUNGKING (AP)—A Japanese column entered Lolo, on the eastern Burma front, last Friday, and since then has pushed on 75 miles to the east, a Chinese high command communique said tonight.

This move cuts straight across the valley of the Salween, and apparently is designed to cut communications of Chinese forces still believed fighting further south in that area.

Lolo is 120 miles southeast of Mandalay and 40 miles northeast of Taunggyi, hitherto the centre of fighting on the eastern sector.

Heavy fighting continued around Taunggyi, recaptured by the Chinese last week. The Japanese were counter-attacking fiercely, the communique said, but the town remained in Chinese hands as late as Monday morning.

An earlier communique reported that the Chinese had recaptured Hopong, 10 miles east of Taunggyi and 100 miles southeast of Mandalay.

On the Meiktila front, directly south of Mandalay, the Chinese forces reported they were fighting a strong delaying action against invasion spearheads thrust up the road from Pinyin south past Tatkon.

'On the Alert'—Col. Britton

V-Army May Get Call Within 6 Weeks

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

As the time draws near for the joining of the crucial battle of the Hittlerian conflict, there emerges the possibility that this armageddon may see uprisings in many places by the invisible army of the subjugated peoples.

Should this happen on an extended scale—and it might—likely would produce bloody chaos in the affected areas. The fury of a revolting populace, even though lacking proper arms, can be terrible.

Word long ago was spread throughout the conquered countries by Allied radio and by underground telegraph that the hour of deliverance would come, and the V-for-victory symbol became a flaming torch of hope. Indeed, the campaign inspired so much premature violence that Britain began urging these Hitler-ridden folk to hold their peace until the signal came for an uprising. It has been hard to keep them in hand, for the yoke of bondage has been cruel.

But now suddenly Britain's "Colonel Britton"—the radio voice which has been fostering and guiding the V-for-victory army on the continent—has electrified his hearers by calling on them to prepare for united action. Probably within six weeks, says the spectacular "colonel," the sign will be given for the civilian uprising. Meanwhile the people are to lay plans to do the greatest possible damage to the Nazis by sabotage and other means.

Already, France, Belgium, Norway, Holland and the countries of eastern Europe have given us many grisly examples of what the invisible army can accomplish.

Fear that unrest might even boil up in his own country was indicated in Hitler's Reichstag speech Sunday. His demand for obedience from the people carried to the ears of expert radio observers in London a note of grave concern among Nazi top fighters.

38 Navy Cadets Graduate in East

HALIFAX (CP)—Largest class to graduate from H.M.C.S. King George III, 38 naval sub-lieutenants received their commissions Saturday in a ceremony at the naval training school here.

The class included probationary sub-lieutenants from virtually every province, every one of whom passed. T. V. Hall of Calgary was adjudged the student showing the most initiative.

Naval officials said the full list of graduates would not be available until today.

U.S. DESTROYER SUNK OFF FLORIDA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Navy announced today the destroyer Sturtevant had been sunk off the coast of Florida "by an underwater explosion within the past 24 hours."

Loss of life was small; the navy communique reported, and most of the crew reached port safely, indicating the ship may have gone down quite slowly.

The Sturtevant, an old 1,190-ton, flush deck, four-stacker, of World War days, normally had a wartime complement of around 145 to 150 men.

Whether the explosion was caused by a torpedo fired by a German U-boat raider, such as blew up the Jacob Jones off the New Jersey coast earlier this year, or by a floating mine was not stated.

The Sturtevant became the seventh U.S. naval vessel announced as lost in the Atlantic area since last fall. Four have been destroyed by enemy action. They were the destroyers Reuben James and Jacob Jones, the coast-guard cutter Alexander Hamilton and the coastguard tender Acadia. Two vessels were lost in heavy seas off Newfoundland—the destroyer Truxton and the store ship Pollux.

Nehru Criticizes Britain's Attitude

CALCUTTA (CP)—Criticizing the British government for continuing to talk "in the old pre-war patronizing language," Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Indian Nationalist leader, declared Sunday that "we are going to make no approach to the British government and we shall face our problems and perils with wisdom and endurance."

At a press conference, Nehru said India "would prefer to perish rather than submit to imperialism or a new invader."

2 Indians Die In Reserve Fire

CHILLIWACK (CP)—The charred bodies of Isaac and Caroline Joe, aged Chilliwack Indians, were recovered Sunday from the still-smoking embers of their home on the nearby Yak-Weak-Woose reservation after an early morning fire which destroyed the dwelling.

The fire was first noticed by an Indian neighbor, Mrs. Howard Paul, she and her brother, Alfonso George, rushed to the flaming house, but the fire was so intense they could not get near. Another nearby unoccupied house and a cord of piled wood also burned.

Police believe the fire started from an overturned coal oil lamp and that Mr. and Mrs. Joe were trapped asleep in their bed.

Strange Spectacle in Berlin

Life-death Reichstag Vote to Hitler As Germany Faces Greatest Crisis

LONDON (AP)—Betraying anxiety over the condition of his home front, Hitler Sunday pointed to Russia as the decisive battlefield of the war and from a quiescent Reichstag received confirmation of his power of life and death over every German. Informed London sources said this act means that not even Nazi judges or army officers now may stand between the German people and the Gestapo.

In a speech of one hour and one minute in which threats, some hint of a peace offensive, admissions of a barely-escaped catastrophe in the frozen drifts of Russia and plans "for the coming winter" were strangely mixed, Hitler unfolded no new master plan or smashing blow to stun the world.

But he claimed that Germany had won a defensive winter war, and promised these actions:

1. "Fighting in the east will be continued. The Bolshevik colossus will be beaten by us so long and until such time as it has been smashed completely."
2. Against the might British air offensive now being waged against Germany, he promised resumption of mass air raiding of Britain—"retaliation, blow by blow, such as happened in 1940."

3. Increased use of submarines, already "growing in right sequence and rhythm" in the Atlantic where U-boats "already by far have surpassed the highest number of submarines employed during the first World War."

NEW LAW

After Hitler's speech Reichsmarshal Goering read to the unformed deputies a new law giving Hitler the right without regard to any existing laws or decrees to compel any officer, soldier, official judge or other man to do his duty by all means.

The law empowering Hitler to remove any man from office or position without legal proceedings and without regard to any legal rights of those affected, was adopted unanimously without a word of discussion.

The brushing aside of all German laws was heralded in Hitler's address in the Kroll Opera House when he declared: "I therefore beg of the German Reichstag explicit confirmation that I am legally entitled to hold anyone to his duties or to sentence or cashier or oust from office and position anyone without consideration of his person or well-earned privileges who in my conscientious opinion does not fulfill his duties."

ONLY DUTIES NOW

Hitler said "everyone must know that today there are only duties" that there are no privileges, and that he wanted no one coming to him for a "vacation" when he could not give his soldiers leave.

Throughout the speech, listeners were impressed by Hitler's evident excitement and preoccupation with the internal situation. "You will therefore understand and certainly agree that in one or the other case I have acted hard and ruthlessly in order to master by grim determination the fate to which otherwise we might have had to succumb," he said as a note of passion rose in his voice.

"It was only very seldom that I had personally to intervene in places where nerves and discipline slackened. I did so with the utmost ruthlessness, and thanks to the sovereignty which the nation gave me, we withstood this winter."

FULL OF DANGER

Goering gave the first hint of the anxiety through which the German high command has passed in recent months.

The winter, he said, "was full of danger, and it happened very often—I can say it now—that greater inner strength was necessary to face the daily pouring in of bad news."

Hitler, however, gave a more graphic description himself. Declaring that "we succeeded in mastering threatening catastrophe, he said "there were moments when men and machines threatened to freeze. He who looks at those vastnesses of the east must count on the psychological burden which in 1812 destroyed the French armies (of Napoleon)."

Restricted Industry Rule Set

Work Permits Granted Students on Holiday

OTTAWA (CP)—Elliott M. Little, director of national selective service, announced today that permits to work in restricted industries would be issued to students for the duration of their school, college or university holidays.

The announcement came in a series of explanatory notes for selective service officers, covering situations which could arise when various age group and classifications of men apply for permits to work at restricted occupations.

"In respect to students seeking employment during the summer holidays, the policy to be followed will be that of giving permits for the duration of the school, college or university holidays," the explanation said.

If the students are needed for munitions work, however, they will be directed into that work rather than be allowed to enter a restricted occupation by permit, it was explained.

A student who normally works at an agricultural job, as for instance a farmer's son, would not be given a permit, if he was needed on the farm. He would be issued a permit, however, if refusal meant that he would be prevented from getting employment.

Mr. Little's explanatory notes said no permit would be needed for young men under 21 doing

When the worst winter in 140 years began to descend on the Russian front, with temperatures much lower than those which ruined Napoleon, he said it became apparent that the German army must withdraw to defensive positions, but the operation was "exceedingly difficult."

MASS OF RUSSIANS

The German soldier alone "enabled me to hold the front line against an enemy which started to send hordes of men. For months masses of newly and hardly-trained men from inner Asia, or from the Caucasus, rushed our lines. . . . If the Russians penetrated between hardy fortified bases in ever fresh waves of attack they could do it only by sacrificing hundreds of thousands of men."

"The problem which caused us the greatest trouble was bringing up supplies because neither the German soldier, nor the German tank, nor unfortunately our German railway engines were prepared for such cold which had caught us by surprise."

It was then that Hitler admitted there is little probability of Germany seeing a victory this year.

"From the organization viewpoint," he said, "I have taken the measures necessary for preventing a repetition. In the coming winter, wherever it finds us, German railways will be able to meet their tasks better than in the last winter. From locomotives down to tanks, tractors and lorries the army in the east will be better equipped."

SLEEP OF DEATH

At another place he stated: "We all know the paralyzing effects of the cold. It makes men go to sleep and kills them without pain."

Officers, "in recognition of threatening danger, by staking their own lives, roused the men. But the hour will come, he said, when the eastern front "will again awaken from its numbness. Then history will decide who has been victorious during this winter, whether the attacker who senselessly sacrificed his human masses or the defender."

This was Hitler's first speech since Jan. 30 when he reviewed difficulties on the eastern front and the Reichstag's first session since Dec. 11 when war was declared on the United States, and the Fuehrer paid some attention to the war in the Pacific.

JAPAN'S WAR

"The heroic fight of the Japanese people in a few months has shown that it was most foolish and silly to provoke Japan into war," he said. "I am not so sure that the English still today are so firmly convinced of the correctness of the political methods of Churchill and Roosevelt."

"The Japanese decision to 'answer arrogant provocation' and enter the war 'came to us as a relief,' he said, because "paralyzing of German submarine activities in the past year was solely due to our efforts to avoid any conflict one could think of with the United States."

Now, he declared, the oceans are a permit the refusal should be in writing with a clear statement of the applicant's right to appeal . . .

"No permit should be issued to an applicant who does not establish that there is a job open for him. However, where the personal circumstances indicate that the applicant would be granted a permit if a job were available, the local national selective service officer may provide the applicant with a letter stating that if he obtains a job within 30 days of the date of the letter a permit will be issued to him . . .

Where it is not reasonably convenient for the employee to do so, or in the case of mass employment, applications may be taken from the employer on behalf of the employee . . .

"An employer will be allowed to transfer any employee who was in his employment on March 23, 1942, from one occupation to another within his own organization, provided he is not being transferred permanently (or for a considerable period) from a non-restricted to a restricted occupation . . .

"Certain groups, because of racial origin, are not eligible for enlistment and further have difficulty in obtaining employment in war industries. In such cases, permits allowing them to enter restricted occupations are quite justifiable."

A speed of 60 miles per hour, for a distance of two or three miles, can be attained by the pronghorn antelope.

Churches Observe Youth Sunday

A week of "the great crusade"—a movement designed to intensify the spiritual morale of people in the war against totalitarianism—ended Sunday with the celebration of Youth Sunday in churches of all denominations through Canada.

An annual event since it was instituted at a rally of empire youth in the Albert Hall, London, May 18, 1937, Youth Sunday this year was equally Imperial. A Westminster Abbey service was broadcast to Canada.

Victoria churches observed Youth Sunday with special services.

The morning service at St. Mark's, Cloverdale, was of especial interest, based on the Westminster Abbey service. Detachments of Air Force Cadets and Girl Guides were present and the congregation included many young people.

"Christ's Challenge to Youth," was the message of Rev. Owen L. Jull, who called upon the young people to dedicate themselves to the Lord, to their country and to prepare themselves for the making of a better world.

"The Golden Hour of Life" was the sermon theme of Rev. J. C. Jackson Sunday evening at a special youth service at James Bay United Church.

Canada's Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, addressed a rally of 4,000 people, 3,600 of them children, at a youth rally in Winnipeg Auditorium and urged the school children to make themselves "fit citizens of this great and vast country."

Fred Bickell, chairman of the Winnipeg rally, announced that a telegram had been sent to the people of Malta. It read: "3,600 young people at the Winnipeg youth rally send best wishes to the brave people of Malta. Stand fast—the God of hope is with you."

At Toronto, J. W. Noseworthy, C.C.F. member of Parliament for York South, told a large youth gathering in St. Clair United Church that there would be no destitution, no unemployment and practically no ill-health and every boy and girl would have an opportunity for education regardless of circumstances if the social principles of Christianity were put into full practice in Canada, as they should be.

That service, one of many held in Toronto churches, was featured by the attendance of 500 students who marched from Oakwood College, behind their school band.

Youth Sunday services were held in many, Saint John, N.B., churches young people took a prominent part in these services and youth was the theme of some sermons.

Thousands of Halifax youths marched behind military bands to their rally. It was attended by Premier A. W. MacMillan of Nova Scotia, Chief Justice Sir Joseph Chisholm, army, navy and air force officers.

At Charlottetown there was a parade of more than 1,000 school children and special church services were held.

when repaid in six monthly instalments

WOULD a cash loan help you? If you have a job, you can borrow at Household Finance without fuss or bother—and at reasonable cost. You may repay your loan in monthly instalments which fit your own pocketbook.

Just this to do

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay.

You may choose the most convenient payment plan from the table below. Suppose you borrow $100 to be repaid at $9.46 a month. Twelve instalments of $9.46 each will repay your loan in full. You may prefer to repay sooner in order to reduce the cost. Six monthly instalments of $17.85 each—a total of $107.10—will also repay a $100 loan. The cost of your loan, in this case, is just $7.10. A $25 loan, repaid in six monthly instalments of $4.46 each costs only $17.65.

You need no endorsers or guarantors to borrow at Household—just the ability to repay in monthly instalments. This spares you the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your credit.

Household Finance loans are usually made on furniture or car. But we consider character and regular income far more important than the value of your security. You can get your loan quickly—usually in 24 hours or even sooner if necessary. If you should get sick or lose your position while paying on your loan, Household will show you every consideration.

Let Household help you

People borrow at Household to pay taxes, insurance, medical, dental, hospital and funeral expenses, school fees, and overdue bills of many kinds. Household service helps men and women, both married and single, to take care of emergency expenses and work their way out of debt.

If you can make good use of a loan, see us at once. We are in business to make loans to folks with money problems. Phone or visit us without obligation.

Madman At Bay

WITHIN AN HOUR OR SO AFTER ITS delivery, Russian spokesmen described Hitler's extraordinary and revealing tirade to the Reichstag yesterday as the beginning of the spring offensive, not against the armies of the Soviet Union, but against the German people. What better interpretation could be put on it? Only parts of his speech resembled others with which he has periodically regaled the Reich and the world at large; he ran true to form in his attacks on his enemies. But when he asked his assembled dupes to invest him with complete authority to control the life of every individual in the Reich, no matter what his or her station, he was admitting, to say the least, that all is far from well within.

It is beside the point to argue that the Fuehrer already had full powers to command implicit obedience; it is another matter altogether when he announces specifically and by implication that his decrees have been challenged, that he fears further insubordination, and that from now on any citizen of the Reich failing to do his or her duty according to the Nazi chief's own concept of the needs of the hour will be punished to the utmost limit. If this is not the manifestation of a madman's despair, especially his despair of a hitherto patently docile home front, the address might be regarded as a clever mask that unfolding events would soon remove. But its phrasing sounded a note in such discordant contrast with anything he has previously uttered that, for once, its tone reflects a state of alarm not to be disguised by bombast.

What must have come as an icy blast to the sorely-depressed German people was his Fuehrer's warning that his armies are faced with the prospect of another winter of war—and, to make matters worse, war in the ice and snow of Russia. What Hitler proposes on this score, however, may be disposed of long before then by the valiant hosts of the Soviet Union. And what is the state of mind of a people that will sanction at this stage of the progress of the world the clothing of one man with such authority as implied by the Gibberian titles now taken by the Fuehrer? Here they are: Leader of the Nation, Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces, Chief of the Government, Supreme Holder of Executive Power, Supreme Lord of Justice, and—somewhat as an anti-climax—Leader of the National Socialist Party. The obedient Reichstag might have included Koko's role; but, of course, Hitler has considered himself Lord High Executioner for several years—since the purge of June 30, 1934.

It will nevertheless be well for our side not to interpret the amazing Reichstag diatribe as an indication that the Nazi edifice is about to crack. Hitler's Wehrmacht on the eastern front is still formidable; with the arrival of climatic conditions that will permit of movement it is safe to assume he will throw everything he has into a final effort to beat back the foe which has brought him most of the grief which asserted itself in his speech yesterday. There is, however, obvious reason to believe that unless the Fuehrer can create some spectacular diversion, the "Supreme Lord of Justice" may soon see the scales tipping more ominously against him—from within as well as from without.

McNaughton and Smuts

ALTHOUGH ABOUT THE LAST POST General McNaughton would care to assume would be that of Prime Minister of Canada—apart altogether from the recent extraordinary campaign to "conscript" him for that high office—the suggestion that his brilliance as a soldier places him in the same category as South Africa's Premier-Field Marshal Smuts will strike most thinking people as somewhat ludicrous. Had this Dominion's brilliant scientist-soldier displayed any particular interest in the administration of the nation's humdrum affairs, had he schooled himself for public life, the capacity his trained mind already has revealed in his chosen spheres could well have been adapted to political affairs and ultimate leadership. None quicker than he would refute the analogy between himself and such a seasoned parliamentarian as the South African Prime Minister.

Forty-six years ago last October, Jan Christian Smuts delivered his first political speech; three years later, while still under the legal age—he was only 28—President Kruger appointed him state attorney. He took part in the negotiations with the British agent at Pretoria on the franchise question, and accompanied the chief executive to the abortive conference with Milner at Bloemfontein three months before war broke out in 1899. It was while he was busy besieging a mining camp in Namaqualand that General Botha sent for him to take part in the peace negotiations at Vereeniging—and largely through his legal and political training in a stern school his influence won the day in favor of a compromise in contradiction to the attitude maintained by the intransigent commandants.

Following his magnificent service to the Empire's cause in 1914-1918, as a soldier—and a statesman who won world-wide recognition—he succeeded General Botha as Prime Minister in 1919, remaining in that position until the defeat of his regime in 1926, and after the amalgamation of the two major parties in 1933, he became Minister of Justice in the cabinet of General Hertzog, where he remained until he defeated the latter in the enforced general election soon after the outbreak of war. Incidentally, it is to be recalled at the time of the Imperial War Conference in London in 1917, he was accorded a dinner by members of both Houses of Parliament, at which he made his famous declaration on the British Commonwealth of Nations. None of the foregoing, of course, detracts from the magnificent record and ability of Canada's General McNaughton; it is merely to show that his training and experience differ substantially from those of the present Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa.

Paying For Pride

WHEN THE INTER-AMERICAN DEFENCE Board—the agency created by the Conference of Foreign Ministers at Rio de Janeiro—drew up its convoluted schedule last week it was naturally not wasting its time on consideration of the trials now beginning to worry Argentina. Together with her Chilean neighbor, this Latin American Republic's representatives to the memorable gathering in the Brazilian capital last January, not only would not agree to make the Latin-American break with the Axis unanimous, but insisted on maintaining a strictly neutral attitude toward the totalitarians—European and Asiatic. To be sure, those 19 states which consented to a common policy are fully aware by this time that solidarity means sacrifice; but Argentina's observer at last week's meeting of the Defence Board also had it impressed upon him that his country is already paying a substantial price for its pride in isolation.

Argentina would have nothing to do with the convoy system; the result has been brought home to the government in Buenos Aires. Last year's export figures worried the ministry of finance a good deal; this year's have jarred its complacency still more. The respective figures are 555,000 tons and 387,000 tons; and not a single ship under Anglo-American control has left New York for the Argentine for several weeks. As one writer puts it: "Nor was shipping shortage the whole story. United States exporters revealed an invisible anti-Argentine embargo, exercised indirectly through the denial of export licenses." Thus did this southern American Republic's isolation begin to feel really lonely.

That condition can be viewed from another standpoint: Argentina's surpluses piled up implacably in tall figures. For example, 80,000,000 bushels of flaxseed compared to last year's "catastrophic" 50,000,000 bushels. While in Buenos Aires alone, to conserve fuel, neon signs were no longer illuminated, cinemas closed earlier, and corn helped to stoke locomotive and power-plant boilers. Auto trucks were rationed; rationing was announced for tin-plate, rubber, iron and steel, wood-pulp, and industrial chemicals. Newspapers were radically reduced in size. Tin-plate caused a boom in glass and wood containers. But if the Argentine felt depressed by economic statistics, her people could rest their eyes, if not their minds, on the figures of those who competed for the prize of Argentina's "Miss Summer, 1942." Before another summer comes round, however, her feelings toward the Axis may not be as warm.

There Are Many Fronts

ON THE SUBJECT OF BRITAIN OPENING a second front, it is fitting to note that British fighting men, on the sea, in the air and on land, are daily and nightly operating on many fronts. Here they are: The Atlantic, the Libyan, the Burmese, the German-held coast from the tip of Norway to the Spanish border, the Malta, the general Mediterranean, the German sky, and last but not the least vitally important, the home front. Add to these the Iranian, the Iranian and the Syrian fronts, plus the necessity of Britain's men having to sail half-way round the world through enemy-infested waters to fight the Axis, and it is not too difficult to discover how many fronts are active. And when the history of this war comes to be written we may find that more commando raids than have been publicized have added to those Nazi discontents which caused Hitler yesterday to announce his own offensive against the German people.

MORE MILK

From Vancouver Sun

Milk is the most valuable food in the world, and one of the few essentials to a healthy human diet. Britain needs Canadian milk and butter can be shipped in powdered form, in bulk and in cheese with a minimum use of cargo space. Such quantities of all these dairy products must move out of Canada to Britain this year that Canada will soon face a shortage of milk.

It can be prevented only if steps are taken now. We can not cut down our milk exports to Britain. We should not reduce the consumption of milk here, particularly by our children, if we can avoid it. The logical answer is to increase the output of milk.

There will be no increase in output but there will be a decrease in the dairy farmer's assured of two things—labor and a fair price. A better price would encourage farmers immediately to produce more milk but they can not produce it if they can not obtain labor. At present, as was shown by figures published here recently, labor is flocking from the farms of Canada into war industries, into cities. Dairy men are beginning to sell cows in some parts of British Columbia because they can not milk them. The crisis in agriculture is a definite failure in the management of our war effort, for milk is an essential war product.

Walter Lippmann

POLITICAL WARFARE

IN HIS ADDRESS at the Associated Press luncheon Mr. Archibald MacLeish—Director of the Office of Official Facts and Figures at Washington—told us that there were many indications from the broadcasts out of Vichy and from other sources that "an Axis 'peace' offensive is in the cards for next summer." Now that the national committee has declared that the Republican party will recognize no peace "except peace with victory" and that it "will never entertain any proposals of peace until such victory be won," there can be no doubt any where in the world where the United States will be standing if our enemies in Berlin and Tokyo offer us another Kurusu mission.

Mr. MacLeish was concerned, however, with the subtler and more insidious form of enemy propaganda, so effectively practiced in France, which is designed to destroy the will to fight, to divide the people, to poison our relations with our Allies and to confuse the strategic conduct of the war. He asked how the government and the press, having warned the people, are "going to arm them to defend themselves against" the "political warfare" of which "we, as a people, have had little knowledge and even less experience."

WILSON'S POLICIES

MR. MACLEISH is, I submit, mistaken in thinking that the United States has little knowledge and even less experience of political warfare. He has forgotten Woodrow Wilson, who, as applied to the modern age of direct and immediate communication across the battle lines, was the discoverer and the first and most successful practitioner of political warfare. President Wilson, moreover, knew quite well how to arm the American people against the insidious wiles of enemy propaganda. His method was not to think up what Mr. MacLeish calls "a strategy of the defence" against peace offensives from the enemy, but to conduct of his own initiative and under his own leadership a continual, grand-scale American offensive for liberty, justice and peace.

The circumstances under which President Wilson acted will, I think, make this clear. We entered the war in April, 1917. We were utterly unprepared, and during the first summer the Allied position in Europe was in many ways more desperate than it is now. The Russian armies had collapsed and Russia had made a separate peace. The French army was on the verge of collapse with many signs of mutiny in the ranks and of rebellion in the civilian population. Italy had become a liability. Britain was under a submarine attack that for some months was more effectively dangerous than that which we are now dealing with. The Middle East was not merely threatened, as it is now. It was actually enemy territory under the Turkish Empire, and the domain of the Central Powers extended unbroken from Berlin to Bagdad, from near Paris as far into Russia as the German armies chose to go.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

DURING THE DARK SUMMER of 1917 the Allies were on the defensive everywhere, and the enemy launched repeated peace offensives designed to crack up finally their ebbing morale. In the autumn came the Bolshevik revolution, followed almost immediately by the publication of the secret treaties designed in the very worst traditions of the old diplomacy. The Allied cause was, therefore, not only in a desperate military position but morally and psychologically it was on the verge of bankruptcy.

No one in his senses would imagine that President Wilson won the war by political means. The war was won by the defeat of the German armies on land, on sea and in the air. No one will imagine that Wilson's words would have had any effect if an American army had not underwritten them in blood and iron. But there is little doubt that as the military prestige of America rose in Europe, the political effect of Wilson's diplomatic action became more and more heartening to the Allies, more and more invigorating to the conquered and the rebellious peoples within the enemy lines, more and more destructive to the enemy's own will to fight.

We are now at a stage in this war where the conditions are ripe for American political action. We have recovered from the shock of being thrown everywhere on the defensive, and our power and the resolution of the American peoples have reached a point where our political influence is no longer a matter of pious words and preachments.

ALLIES SHOULD ACT

INSTEAD OF WONDERING what we shall do if Berlin or Tokyo offers us a fraudulent and treacherous peace, the time has come to offer our own peace based upon the liberation of all the peoples from the twin tyrannies of Berlin and Tokyo. We should propose peace to the Finns. We should propose peace to the Italians. We should leave no doubt that in Asia as in Europe we are fighting for peace and liberty, not for privilege and the restoration of ancient empire.

We should, now that our two parties are as one in recognizing our responsibilities, establish the machinery, formulate the plans, and publicly and formally lay before the nations proposals under which we and our Allies will make available food, raw materials, ships, and loans for relief as soon as the enemy surrenders, and for reconstruction after an armistice has been granted.

That is the way political warfare is waged against tyrants, and by our traditions, our vital interests, our experience, our power and our resources we have all that it takes to conduct it triumphantly.

Parcels From Canada 'Godsend,' Say Prisoners

By JOSEPH M. LEVY
(Wireless to the New York Times).

CAIRO—Still not quite over that "back-from-the-dead" feeling, British prisoners who have arrived here from Italy in the first contingent under the new exchange plan sat on hospital cots today and told how it felt to be day after day, in a prisoners-of-war camp, often completely out of touch with relatives and friends, with no hope of anything different in the near future.

They also tried to tell how it felt to "come back" again. But their words failed them. "God, it's great!" was about the best that they could muster.

They arrived at Cairo after having traveled from Italy via Smyrna, where they left the Italian vessel and boarded the British ship Llandovery Castle. A group of Italians who left Alexandria a little more than a week ago figured in the exchange at Smyrna.

UNCENSORED NEWS

"One of the nicest things about getting back is having access to news that hasn't come through in the Italian papers," a British private said.

"In the big camp at Sulmona, where we stayed, prisoners translated Italian newspapers into English and published their own news bulletin.

"But we had to get our news by reading between the lines," he explained.

The former prisoners of war have now discovered to their amusement that the Italian newspapers have been praising "the terrific resistance of our heroic troops in East Africa" three months after Gondar, the last Italian stronghold in Ethiopia, fell.

Some Italian soldiers who worked about the camps had been in the United States, but had been deported or had been conscripted while home on visits. "They could speak English, and most of them were quite kind," one Briton said. "I gathered that none of them thought much of the war."

Several prisoners said that Canadians ought to be told how much their Red Cross packages had helped. Although there were at first many difficulties in reaching the prisoners, and although some men heard nothing for months, the Red Cross letters and parcels came frequently and were a godsend.

"I don't know what we'd have done without those parcels," one sergeant said.

PUNCTURE TINNED FOOD

One difficulty was that the Italians having heard that the prisoners were trying to build up a food reserve, punctured all tinned goods before they distributed the Red Cross parcels. The contents were still usable, however, if eaten before the hot climate did its work.

Items confiscated from parcels included playing cards and technical books. Novels usually got through. The men spent most of their time in reading or playing cards with those decks that they managed to obtain.

The Sulmona Camp, 80 miles east of Rome, where most of these men had been imprisoned, was built during the last days of the first Great War. It consists of brick huts. Eighty men were kept in each hut. Daily issues included two meals, five cigarettes and one lira in cash, but payments were not always prompt.

Except for two musters a day the men had little to do. The Germans in Libya do everything possible to induce men to work, but the Italians use only volunteers. Prisoners who have been teachers before the war gave lessons in French and Italian, and in subjects such as wireless, but lack of technical books was a great handicap.

"It was bearable, but we're certainly glad to be out." That is the consensus of "the men who came back."

A WELCOME DEBT

"A Grateful Father" writes to thank The Times, London, on behalf of all British parents with children in America for an advocacy of some months, both in leading and correspondence columns, of the appeal for permission to send remittances lightening the burden on generous hosts. The occasion of his letter is an announcement by the Chancellor of the Exchequer that $3 a month can now be remitted to Canada and the United States for every British child evacuated there, and $10 for every adult from this country in charge of them. Some 2,400 children were sent officially and many more privately. They have had to rely for every cent upon the willing charity of their hosts and parents have been eager to discharge a portion of the debt.

TAXES, COMPULSORY SAVINGS

From Financial Post
Are taxes going to go higher? Are we going to have compulsory saving in Canada? Some clue as to the answers to both these important questions was revealed in a speech of Dr. W. A. Mackintosh, economic adviser to the Department of Finance. Taxes, he declared, can never reach a peak during the war "as long as we can adjust our scale of living so that we can contribute more." In other words, as long as there is any slack in the belt or the body encircled by that belt, we can expect continuous tightening.

ST. PATRICK WRONGLY GIVEN CREDIT

St. Patrick has long been given credit for doing something he never had a chance to do. There were no snakes in Ireland in his day—none, indeed, since long before the first human being set foot on the Old Sod. If there were any serpents in the island before the last great Ice Age, that long cold spell finished them. And since Ireland, unlike England, did not have a land bridge to the mainland in those remote times, there was no way for snakes (most of which can't stand salt water) to cross over.

The time may not be far off when it will be necessary to register women and assign them to tasks necessary to continue successful prosecution of the war. —Rep. James P. Priest, Tennessee Democrat.

JAP JINX

The pessimists will say: Suppose Germany should crumble within the next year? That still leaves us with Japan.

This is true. But Japan is first, last and all the time a by-product of the Nazi menace in so far as fighting this war is concerned.

Consider exactly what has happened to date in this Pacific war. The Japanese have made what gains they have made by a process as simple as A B C. They have made their gains one by one or land by getting control of the sea approaches to those lands—and so landing locally superior forces in each case.

And they have gained that control of the sea in two ways—only one of which we are allowed to write fully about as yet. The Japs have, till recently, had complete local air supremacy at all decisive points.

Suppose then, that Germany is knocked out of the war. The United Nations will certainly not retake one by one from Japan the islands lost one by one. They will obviously do two things: They will strike directly at Japanese sea power, and then with overwhelming air supremacy. And they will do on a mammoth scale what they have already started to do in the feeler raids—strike directly at Japan itself.

AIR THE KEY

Air supremacy is the key to the war against Japan even more than it is the key to the winning of the war against Germany.

That is why the world picture is, at this moment, brighter than it has been in a decade. For we have at least equality now and we will have increasing supremacy with each month. The fact is that all the events of recent years have added up together to unify and solidify the English-speaking world; and to give that English-speaking part of the world the decisive voice in world affairs, outside the sphere of direct Soviet influence.

Only now have planes started to roll off the production lines of United States factories like Model T Fords used to roll off speaking world; and to give that mass production some sort of marvel.

The production curve has just started really to rise swiftly. Up till now it has been a matter of getting set. Within a year the United Nations should have sufficient air power completely to dominate the skies wherever they can establish air bases or maintain aircraft carriers.

AIR POWER DECISIVE

Over and over again, in this war, it has been shown that aircraft alone cannot win battles. Sea power still plays its historic role—the only difference being that aircraft are the chief factor in sea power. On land, too, the armored corps and infantry must still be there to do what the horse and foot soldiers did in all previous wars. But over all and above all is air power.

It is because we are on the verge of attaining air supremacy that we should be able to beat Germany within a year—and Japan not too long afterwards.

YOUR CHANCE, MR. MAYOR

Some time ago our city fathers put horse blinders on the overhead signal light at the corner of Douglas and Pandora Streets and it was necessary for pedestrians to go out into the middle of the road to see the color of the light, at the continual risk of being killed, maimed or half-seared to death.

Now, believe it or not, a sensible, unobstructed light has been placed at this busy crossing, and in gratitude the writer will gladly stand the Mayor of Victoria a glass of beer.

BEWARE OF PEACE DRIVE

One of the great signs we should now respect to warn us of the sudden collapse of this world's struggle, which would strike the earth prior to the reign of eternal peace, is a peace movement.

The increased suffering, and the increasing threatening portents, will cause certain well-meaning influential groups throughout the world to seek peace in order to eliminate suffering. Let us bear in mind, and not depart from the fact, that the terrible scourge of hunger now prevailing is caused by the tyrants, and is part of their war strategy. It is the tyrants that fear defeat.

CHINESE IN VICTORIA

A hardship in the status of resident Chinese has long seemed to deserve ventilation.

For about 14 years we have known a young Chinese fruit peddler who has a wife and two small boys living near Macao in China; but the young father and husband can't bring them over here to live with him. In all the years we have known him he has only twice been able to afford to go and see them. It seems a great hardship and injustice. At the moment he has been unable to communicate with them for nine months. In the war now raging, China has longer than any other nation been fighting for freedom, that is fighting our battle as well as her own. At long last we joined in the fight, and we now recognize her as an ally.

Does it not seem that it would be a gracious act to relax the severity of the immigration laws, I don't say a just, decent, and fair thing? I don't know the date of these laws, but surely the time has come to alter them. This youngster is intelligent, friendly, diligent and honest. Nowhere could you find one better qualified to be a citizen and to receive decent treatment. He does not compete with Canadians in his hard job of peddling perishables in all weathers, and reaping the small returns it gives. He does not know I am writing this. Is he not entitled to be treated humanely? He is a man like ourselves. And we boast we are fighting for justice and against racial discrimination.

POTATOES AND MARKETING

It is quite evident that a recent letter appearing in your paper from Mrs. Emma Nelson was written with the intention of putting the blame on the Marketing Board for a shortage of potatoes, when it can be definitely traced to natural causes, and in terms of the law courts, to an act of God.

The season of 1941 was an unber, causing severe losses in crops. In some areas a new pest (eastern flea beetle) appeared, also causing severe loss. All told there was a loss of over 30 per cent in the crop from these three causes, none of which can be blamed on the Marketing Board.

There is an increased demand for potatoes due to the large number of men in the air, army and sea forces and which have taken many of these men out of the production field.

The year 1942 will likely see a reduction in the production of potatoes, as many farmers find they will have to reduce acreage as they will not be able to put in as much as formerly and are not sure they can get the crop harvested on account of shortage of help.

It is up to every person, including your correspondent, who has even a few square rods of land or can rent a lot, to plant potatoes and help out the present shortage instead of condemning an organization which, although not perfect, is welcomed by over 75% of the potato producers, and which has helped to produce a stable market.

Some years ago when there was an overproduction of potatoes, the Marketing Board wanted to limit the acreage of large growers to 25 acres, but this policy has not been put into effect yet. Many growers last year had over 50 acres each in the Fraser Valley. An effort by the women to organize and supply families and pickers would

To Aid War Effort

On May 1 the members of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter I.O.D.E. will hold a "Bread and Butter" Tea in aid of their funds, at the home of Mrs. W. Ellis, 3023 Beach Drive, from 3.30 to 5.30.

Under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. C. H. Price, a musical program has been arranged, there will also be a small home-cooking stall.

This chapter has for many years supplied the undernourished children in the local schools with milk, which calls for the raising of a large fund every year. This tea is for the purpose of augmenting the amount of money so far in hand and to enable the members to complete their other obligations, also to carry on their war work. The Oak Bay bus passes the house.

C.C.F. Women's Auxiliary will meet Tuesday at 2.30 in Room 6, Brown Building, Broad Street.

Victorians Attend Provincial W.B.A. Convention

Mrs. C. W. McAllister, Mrs. M. Stephens and Mrs. M. Burnett left over the week-end for Vancouver, where they will represent Victoria at the provincial convention of the Women's Benefit Association, to be held in the Hotel Georgia Tuesday and Wednesday. Delegates will also be present from Vancouver, Nanaimo, Chemainus, Cumberland, Nelson and Rossland.

Special guest at the sessions will be Miss Ireta La Salle, International Junior and Girls' Director from Port Huron, Michigan, in whose honor a reception and banquet will be given Tuesday evening at Hotel Georgia ballroom. Mrs. S. Elsom who is in charge of the program for the convention is the chairman assisted by Mrs. J. Dyer, Mrs. Day and Miss E. Fordyce.

RITUALISTIC WORK

Mrs. Caroline O'Brien, provincial field director, will preside at the sessions which open, at 10 a.m. A special feature of the convention will be a display of ritualistic work by the combined guard teams of Vancouver, New Westminster and Vancouver Island, with Mrs. M. Kinnison as captain.

The courtesy committee includes past presidents, Mrs. B. Percer, No. 15, New Westminster; Mrs. E. Bateman, No. 2, Vancouver; Mrs. H. Lockhart, No. 7, and Mrs. F. Henderson, No. 9, both of Vancouver.

This is the golden jubilee anniversary year of the W.B.A., and delegates will be elected at this convention to attend the supreme convention in Port Huron, the third week in July. The affair was originally planned for San Francisco but had to be postponed.

TO BUY WAR BONDS

The Women's Benefit Association has pledged for the duration of the war through its board of trustees, to invest at least 75 per cent of its increase in assets for the purchase of defence and victory bonds, which will amount to about $3,000,000 for this year. Many of its local units are also investing their general funds in defence and war savings.

At least 36,000 of its members are enlisted in first aid and home nursing classes, with many more thousands of its members knitting and sewing for the Red Cross.

The 50th anniversary of the association is being celebrated among all its local branches during October, the anniversary month of organization. This association is entirely managed by women, and from a shoe string 50 years ago, $109,000,000 has been credited to the women of Canada and America affiliated with this organization.

Engagements

ELLETT-FAULKNER

The engagement is announced of Doris May, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Faulkner, 1051 Tattersall Drive, to Mr. J. M. Ellett, only son of Mr. J. Ellett and the late Mrs. Ellett, of Saanichton. The wedding will take place, on May 2 at Oak Bay United Church in the evening at 8.

At St. John's Church on the afternoon of Sunday, April 19, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk John of Cordova Bay was christened by Rev. George Biddle, the rector, receiving in baptism the names David Edward. The godparents were Miss Charlotte Clayton of Vancouver, Mr. Harold Clayton and Mr. Harold P. John, both of Victoria. The christening robe worn by the baby had been worn by the baby's paternal grandparent, Mr. B. H. John, 948 Queen's Avenue, at whose home the christening tea was held after the service at St. John's.

Miss Barbara (Bimble) Jackson, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jackson, Cobble Hill, V.I., who has been accepted for the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) and who left Victoria this afternoon for Vancouver en route to Toronto. At the outbreak of war Miss Jackson joined the B.C. Women's Service Corps, Duncan Detachment, and in September, 1941, transferred to the Canadian Red Cross Corps, serving as a corporal, until she joined the R.C.A.F. (W.D.).

Miss Peggy McDonald of Vancouver, is visiting in Victoria, the guest of Mrs. Keith Smith.

Mr. James Murray, who has been spending the winter at the Harrogate Apartments, left for his home in Winnipeg today.

Mrs. J. C. MacDonald of Leota, Sask., who has been spending the last four months in Victoria with her sister, Mrs. T. G. Clarke, Roslyn Road, has left on her return to her home on the prairie.

Mrs. T. Burton-Jones, accompanied by her daughter, Gil, who have been at the Harrogate for the last year, are leaving Wednesday for Prince Rupert, B.C. Mrs. Burton-Jones having been transferred from Patricia Bay to the northern city.

Mrs. H. A. Struthers of Winnipeg, who has been spending the last year at the Empress Hotel, and her daughter, Mrs. M. Hunt, of Winnipeg who has been resident at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel for a few months, left this afternoon for Manitoba.

Mrs. E. W. Hamber entertained at a dinner party at her Vancouver home, "Greencroft," Friday evening in compliment to Mrs. C. F. Armstrong of Victoria, who has been visiting in the mainland city for a few days.

Mrs. Maurice L. Fitzgerald of Regina, who has been visiting in Victoria for the last 10 days, as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. George Hall, Rockland Avenue, left this afternoon for her home in Saskatchewan.

At St. John's Church on the afternoon of Sunday, April 19, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk John of Cordova Bay was christened by Rev. George Biddle, the rector, receiving in baptism the names David Edward. The godparents were Miss Charlotte Clayton of Vancouver, Mr. Harold Clayton and Mr. Harold P. John, both of Victoria. The christening robe worn by the baby had been worn by the baby's paternal grandparent, Mr. B. H. John, 948 Queen's Avenue, at whose home the christening tea was held after the service at St. John's.

About 20 relatives and friends paid an informal visit to Mrs. W. H. Clarke Thursday at her home, 3152 Delta Street, on the occasion of her 84th birthday. Games were enjoyed, Mrs. Clarke being a keen participant, and refreshments were served. A birthday cake, beautifully decorated with flowers and candles, was brought in and cut by the honored guest. Winners of the contests were Dr. Hugh Clarke, Mr. Robert Dalziel, Miss Hazel Dalziel, Mrs. W. H. Clarke and Bud Rickerby. Others present were: Mrs. Hugh Clarke, Mrs. R. Dalziel, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Olson, Mrs. Dodd, Mrs. J. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Olson, Mrs. V. Pullen, Mrs. G. MacPherson, Mrs. R. Wiley and Sheila Clarke. Many gifts were also presented to the honored guest. Mrs. Clarke's three sisters, also Victoria pioneers, were unable to be present. Mrs. Florence Irving, Mrs. Thomas Cunnison and Mrs. Wilmet Carlou of Sooke. Of her nine children, only two are residing in Victoria, Mrs. V. Olson and Dr. Hugh Clarke. She has 29 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren.

Miss Pat Gibson, elder daughter of Captain and Mrs. C. F. Gibson, Centre Road, Sidney, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Jutson Fisher, Cadboro Bay, will leave tonight to join the Royal Canadian Air Force (Women's Division) motor transport section.

Lieut. Hugh M. Rider, R.C.A.S.C., with Mrs. Rider and their baby daughter, Karen, arrived Sunday from Red Deer, Alta., where he has been stationed for the last few months, attached to an advanced training centre. While here they are guests of Mrs. Rider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dixon, the Uplands.

Mrs. J. A. Izard will leave tomorrow for Vancouver en route for Halifax, N.S., to join her husband, Sub-Lieut. J. A. Izard, R.C.N.V.R. Mrs. Izard, the former Cynthia Musgrave, has been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. G. Musgrave, Newport Avenue, since her husband left for the east.

Major and Mrs. Dennis Sweeting left Friday afternoon for Vancouver to visit for a few days en route to eastern Canada, whence Major Sweeting will proceed overseas. They arrived here for a week's visit from Kingston, Ont., where the former has been taking a staff course for four months after previously serving overseas for 15 months. While here they have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sweeting, Cook Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGregor, Granite Street. Mrs. Sweeting will return here shortly to reside with her parents while her husband is in England.

The second in the series of record parties arranged by the Victoria Chapter of the Toronto Conservatory Alumni Association was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. S. Pells, Quadra Street. The present Miss Gwendoline Harper, welcomed the guests thanking them for helping in the chapter's war effort. After the musical program, tea was served from a lace-covered table centred with tulips and hyacinths. Mrs. Barrie Gault and Mrs. Marion MacGovern presided, assisted by Miss Florence Phillimore and Miss Noel Smith.

Enjoying the Victoria sunshine after a winter in eastern Canada, are Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward E. Harris, caught by the Times' photographer in the garden of Mr. Harris' parents, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. A. E. Harris, 766 Esquimalt Road, with whom they are visiting since their arrival here Friday. They were married in Halifax, N.S., last month, the bride being the former Kay Foster, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Foster of Halifax.

AND NEED TO BUILD UP
RED BLOOD!

"TAKE HEED if you have all or any one of these symptoms: do you suffer headache, cramps, backache, nervousness, weakness, crankiness, distress of 'irregularities,' periods of the blues, a bloated feeling—due to functional monthly disturbances?"
Then start at once—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets (with added iron). Pinkham's Tablets are well known for relieving monthly pain and distress. Thousands of girls and women report remarkable benefit. Taken regularly—they help build up resistance against such annoying symptoms.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound Tablets are also especially helpful in building up red blood and thus aid in promoting more strength and energy. Made in Canada.

Weddings

WATSON-GILL

Victoria will be the future home of the principals in the pretty wedding which took place in St. Alban's Church, New Westminster, Saturday evening at 7, when Verna Mae, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay F. Gill of New Westminster, became the bride of Mr. Denis Robert Watson, R.C.N.V.R., youngest son of Major and Mrs. J. C. Watson, 1923 Belmont Avenue, Victoria. Rev. R. A. Thompson officiated.

Dogwood and wild cherry blossom made an attractive setting in the church as the bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father. She wore a beige cashmere suit with large brimmed felt hat and white silk blouse, and snakeskin accessories, and her corsage was of gardenias and lily of the valley.

The groom's sister was her only attendant in a smart turquoise blue wool frock with matching turban and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and lily of the valley. Mr. Richard Letts was best man. During the signing of the register Miss Alice Stonehouse sang "Through the Years."

A small reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, where the couple received their guests standing before a fireplace banked with cherry blossom. Spring flowers were arranged around the reception rooms and in the place of honor on the bridal table was the three-tiered wedding cake, which the bride cut after the toast by her uncle, Mr. Lindsay Forsythe.

Mrs. Gill assisted in welcoming the guests in a blue and white sheer costume with navy hat and accessories and Mrs. Watson wore a navy blue redingote with touches of red, both having matching corsages of carnations. For her honeymoon on the mainland the bride donned a plaid tweed topcoat over her wedding ensemble. They will live on Yates Street, Victoria.

TAYLOR-HAYLOCK

A Victoria girl was the bride at a pretty wedding at First United Church, Vancouver, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, when Mac Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Haylock, 90 Burnside Road, Victoria, became the bride of Mr. Frederick W. Taylor, son of Mrs. Taylor and the late Mr. F. W. Taylor of Hove, Sussex, England. Rev. Andrew Rodon was the officiating minister.

Mr. C. Haylock gave his sister in marriage. She wore a floor-length fitted gown of white lace, inset with net, with sweetheart neckline and puff sleeves. Her embroidered fingertip veil was held in place with a heart-shaped halo and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of rapture roses and white carnations. Her sister, Mrs. R. Taylor, was matron of honor, wearing a heavenly blue georgette frock, moulded to the figure, with long puff sleeves, and full-floorlength skirt, and Miss Helen McKim of Victoria, the bridesmaid, wore a gown of lime green crepe, similarly fashioned. Both wore halos to match their gowns and carried bouquets of carnations and sweet peas. Chief Petty Officer Edward R. Taylor, R.C.N.R., Victoria, was groomsmen, and Mr. Stanley Haylock, brother of the bride, and Mr. Clinton Petty were ushers.

The reception was held at the Masonic Hall, where an orchestra was in attendance. The bride's mother received in a rose silk crepe dress trimmed with sequins, navy blue accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink and white carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake and lighted pink tapers centred the bride's table.

For the honeymoon trip to eastern Canada the bride wore a grey tailored suit with rose accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside in Vancouver.

HOWROYD-BUTTON

Iris Dolores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Button, Gordon Head, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Howroyd, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howroyd, Mount Tolmie, at a quiet ceremony at the Bishop's House April 25, Father J. A. Gaudette officiating. The bride wore a powder blue redingote ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of iris and rose buds, and was attended by her sister, Miss Merle Button, dressed in blue with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Theodore Waters was best man. Spring flowers were arranged at the home of the bride's parents for the family reception which followed the ceremony. After a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Howroyd will take up residence in their new home on Mortimer Street, Mount Tolmie.

BARCLAY-MASON

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, uniting Gertrude, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mason, of Colwood, and Leading Steward William Hargreave Barclay, R.C.N., only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barclay, 385 Admirals Road, Rev. R. C. S. Denvers officiated. The church was decorated with pink snapdragons and palest pink carnations on the altar, and pink and cream tulips on the choir stalls. Miss Peggy White, an old school chum of the groom, rendering the wedding music at the organ. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Sgt. Alan McAdam, R.C.A.P.C., and wore a charming Alice-blue afternoon frock, with insets of matching lace, a Mary Stuart hat of white, and white accessories. Her shower bouquet was of pink roses and white sweet peas. Her bridesmaid, Miss Doris Griffin, wore a dusty rose dress and hat, with a corsage of pale pink carnations. Mr. Ray Hadfield was best man.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mrs. Barclay Sr., receiving the guests, and wearing an imported model dress of black and mauve printed silk, and hat of purple. Centering the supper table was a three-tiered wedding cake, pink carnations and snapdragons were arranged throughout the reception rooms. W. O. Fred Freeman, R.C.N., proposed the toast to the bride, the groom replying. For a honeymoon to be spent in Vancouver, the bride traveled in a lime-green dressmaker suit, with a camel hair topcoat, beige hat and accessories to match. Her corsage bouquet was of cream roses and lily of the valley. Leading Steward Barclay and Mrs. Barclay will make their home in Halifax, N.S.

It was terribly cold there with the snow-capped mountains of Switzerland shivering down on us. We had only thin slacks and heavy old army boots to wear. Every morning we had to parade, nail in hand to the coal store for fuel for the cell fires. Our worst ordeal was to stand sometimes for the tea table, blue tapers in silver candelabra and bowls of daffodils and narcissi completing the decorations. Pouring tea were: Mesdames R. O. Alexander, W. J. Beech, L. F. Stevenson and C. Treacren. Tea cups were read by Mrs. W. S. Kirkpatrick.

During the afternoon the R.C.A.F. band rendered an enjoyable musical program, and Flight Sgt. F. J. Frith won applause for his vocal solos, "Land of Hope and Glory," and "Sunrise and You." Novelty contests were held, Mrs. Clark presenting the prizes. Conveners were: Mrs. C. W. Steele, Sunday dinner; Mrs. John Ewing, theatre tickets; Mrs. Ruth Armstrong, stockings, and Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, games.

Mrs. Noel B. Eaton was general convenor of the affair, assisted by Mrs. S. S. Pearce. It was announced that the sum of $34 had been raised from a recent sale of home cooking under the convenship of Lady Emily Walker.

Leaving today to enter the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) is Miss Jean Macdonald, second daughter of Major and Mrs. D. A. Macdonald, Sidney, V.I. She will go to Vancouver en route to eastern Canada for special training in the transport division. Born in Gosport, Hampshire, England, she was educated at Strathcona Lodge School and has served in the Women's Service Corps for the past two years. Well known in sports and artistic circles, she was an enthusiastic horsewoman and tennis player and belonged to the Beaux Arts Society. She is also active in A.R.P. work in her district.

English Girls' Epic Flight From Nazi Prison Camp

By GARRY ALLIGHAM

LONDON—Rosemary Say and Frida Stewart, twin heroines of an epic exploit have escaped from a Nazi concentration camp in France to tell a dramatic story of vital interest to Canadians.

"I went to Paris just before the war," Rosemary Say, 22-year-old brunette told me. "A few months after I arrived the Nazis marched in."

"In the early days of the German occupation the Nazis took the utmost trouble to be unnaturally courteous. Every week other British folks and I had to report to the police—that is all. After six months the veneer of deliberate inoffensiveness began to wear thin and the real Hun showed through. I was ordered abruptly to the railway depot with enough kit for a three days' absence. That was a cruel lie because I took only enough for three days, and the Germans knew I was leaving my friends for good."

4,000 IN ONE TRAIN

"More than 4,000 of us traveled in a packed train for days. Conditions were terrible; during the journey one woman's four-week-old baby died. She would have been left to her sorrow and tragedy without any care if some of the nuns had not attended to her and the little corpse. (There were 18 different orders totaling about 300 nuns including several from the province of Quebec.)

"We were marched into an old barracks at Bescancon in the Jura mountains near the Swiss border, which had been occupied by 20,000 French soldiers taken prisoner from the Maginot Line. It was filthy beyond description and during my stay there were two outbreaks of dysentery.

"Only one thing made life endurable — parcels of foodstuffs which the Canadian Red Cross sent. We literally lived on them, counting the hours till they arrived, and we used to mark the distribution date in our diaries. When the day came, we filed up to the camp office and a German officer passed out the parcels. By his side stood a Red Cross official to make sure that the international conventions governing prisoners of war were observed.

CANADIAN PARCELS BEST

"Not all the parcels were from Canada but those that were, were so envied that we used to draw lots in turn so that each person got at least one Canadian parcel a month. Then there would be a couple of days swooping when the lucky ones with the Canadian parcels exchanged any unwanted articles for goods from other parcels.

"It was terribly cold there with the snow-capped mountains of Switzerland shivering down on us. We had only thin slacks and heavy old army boots to wear. Every morning we had to parade, nail in hand to the coal store for fuel for the cell fires. Our worst ordeal was to stand sometimes for the tea table, blue tapers in silver candelabra and bowls of daffodils and narcissi completing the decorations. Pouring tea were: Mesdames R. O. Alexander, W. J. Beech, L. F. Stevenson and C. Treacren. Tea cups were read by Mrs. W. S. Kirkpatrick.

During the afternoon the R.C.A.F. band rendered an enjoyable musical program, and Flight Sgt. F. J. Frith won applause for his vocal solos, "Land of Hope and Glory," and "Sunrise and You." Novelty contests were ankle deep in ice and mud peeling potatoes until our fingers were too numb by the cold to feel the knife. Then we'd line up for our main meal, and with 4,000 in the queue you can imagine how wretchedly unappetizing it was by the time most of us got it. That is why we appreciated so keenly the foodstuffs in the Canadian Red Cross parcels.

"After six months there we were taken on a 200 kilometre journey to Vittel in the Vosges, where Frida and I escaped. We shared a cell with another girl who, for obvious reasons, I will call Jane Brown, which isn't her name. We three planned a getaway, but as our success depended on one staying behind to cover the other two, we drew lots. Jane lost—she's the real heroine of our escape because she remained to take the rap.

HID IN DITCH

"One night while a company of us were being marshaled back to camp from the fields, Frida and I hid in a ditch where we stayed all night until dawn was due to break. Then we slid under the wire fence which the Nazis had warned us was electrified, and wearing colored handkerchiefs, disguised as French peasant girls, we trudged over the fields to the depot and caught the early morning train.

"For two months we were passed from friend to friend, never staying more than one night at the same place, sleeping in a different bed every night and never knowing one day where we would be going the next. There was a wonderful underground anti-Nazi organization in operation.

IN FUNERAL PROCESSION

"When we reached the boundary between occupied and unoccupied France—the most dangerous part of our journey, a French peasant boy of 12 had been allocated as our guide in the final stage of escape. He took us to a house where all the blinds were drawn, as someone was dead and was being buried. We joined the funeral procession and attended the service in the little church, our boy guide explaining that the Nazi boundary ran between the church and the cemetery. That poor dead Frenchwoman would have rejoiced that her death had helped beat the Nazis. She was prayed over in Nazi territory and buried in French territory. The funeral procession came out three fewer than it went in—left behind were the coffin of the patriot Frenchwoman, and two British girls, very much alive. After a year under the Nazi flag we were in French territory.

The rest of the journey was simple. They reached Lyons where they came under the United States protection. They were then sent to Marseilles where in time an American ship took them to Lisbon whence they traveled to a place in Britain.

Merriman Talks

ABOUT SALVAGE

We haven't learned anything about war salvaging yet compared with what is being done in England. We have a lot of emphatic slogans, a lot of appeals and nearly everybody is doing something towards salvaging but we can still do much more judging from information obtained from a soldier friend just back from England after two and a half years.

He was an interesting chap to talk to, a philosophical soldier taking everything in his stride this war as he did as a kid soldier in the last war and he talked without prejudices, likes or dislikes. Somebody threw an empty cigarette packet in the fire.

"Whoa!" he remarked. "Is that what you do with them? Do you know it would be as much as your life was worth to do that in England."

"They tell us to save them here but what can you do with the odd packet?" a friend remarked.

"In England," the soldier said, "there are containers on the streets and no one would think of throwing a paper or an empty box anywhere else. I saw one in Victoria," he added, "and put an empty packet in the other day."

There was a discussion as to whether when the receptacle was emptied the contents would be dumped with the other garbage or go to the salvage pile.

The soldier was particularly amazed at the way old newspapers were thrown to the winds and the circulars, official and otherwise coming through the mail. Some of them he noticed happened to be expensively produced booklets and letters from the Dominion government itself.

bottles, jars and anything that might be useful in the salvage campaign.

The lack of these is possibly hurting Victoria's total collections and we might gather an idea from the men who came back from England where throwing away anything that has any salvageable value is almost in the nature of a crime.

The few enthusiastic organizers who now bear the brunt of the campaign deserve more support than they are getting.

THE A.R.P.

George Macdonald passes these lines on with the idea that they might start people thinking:

While Tweedledum And Tweedledee Fight, to boss The A.R.P.: Do we depend, When bombers come, On Tweedledee? Or Tweedledum?

Tweedledum, Unless he's boss, Gums the works To put across A fast one—Ver Tweedledee. (But who's the Fall Guy, You, or me?)

Tweedledee Talks soothing pap; And won't be there To take the rap. But we may meet The usual fate: "Much too little And too late!"

GETTING SIMPLER

The Rotarian says it's getting simpler:

In 1940 there were no running boards.
In 1941 no gear shifts.
In 1942 no tires.
In 1943 no cars.

In another issue it breaks into poetry under the heading:

WHAT'S THE USE?

John Doodle took to worrying He worried over Hitler— And war and blitz and politics His sales kept getting littler.

He worried over Italy, the British fleet, the Japs— He gave up precious selling time To study foreign maps.

And all these worries that he had A final one begat— He worried till he lost his job, Then worried over that.

EAST AND WEST

Add to the list of arguments that some eastern Canadians have a foggy idea of the west this story which is being quoted in Vancouver. A car was needed for a patriotic drive on the coast. Permission had to be granted by Ottawa before the purchase could be made. A letter outlining the need for the vehicle was drafted and sent to Ottawa headquarters. The answer, "granted you need the car but with this proviso—Vancouver can only drive it in the mornings. Victoria must have it in the afternoon."

PAPER PROFITS UP

NEW YORK (CP)—The International Paper Company, successor to the International Paper and Power Company, reported consolidated net profit for 1941 was $16,253,762 compared with revised net profit of $15,696,577 in 1940.

Richard J. Cullen, president, said in his annual report the company's 1941 income was $218,149,111, an increase of 33 per cent over 1940 when total returns were highest in the company's history.

Callup Poll

Production Biggest Problem Before U.N.

PRINCETON, N.J. — The British and American public appear agreed that increased production of war materials is the greatest single problem facing them in winning the war. The American public would add that solution of the shipping bottleneck ranks a close second.

Surveys by the American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll) show that the U.S. public is now in a state of mind similar to that in Britain up to a few months ago.

The question put to the cross-section comprising persons in all parts of the country and in all walks of life was:

"What do you regard as the greatest problem the United States now faces in winning the war?"

Chief problems named by the voters in order of frequency are shown below:

1. Speeding up war production, 28%.
2. Shipping and transportation, 19%.
3. Uniting the people behind the war effort, 15%.
4. Getting labor into line, and eliminating fights between labor and industry, 9%.
5. Increasing the armed forces, 5%.
6. Solving the problem of war material shortage, 5%.
7. Eliminating government red tape and political inefficiency, 4%.
8. Getting an offensive started, 3%.
9. Cleaning up fifth columnists, 3%.
10. Financing the war, 3%.
11. Miscellaneous and undecided, 17%.

COMPARISON WITH BRITAIN

When the British Institute of Public Opinion in December asked a similar question of British voters, production received the largest number of mentions with the organization of manpower second.

This was in sharp contrast to the situation in Britain during the early months of the war. In 1940, Britons were expressing particular anxiety over such things as night bombing, safer shelters and maintaining sufficient food supplies through the German counter-blockade, while the problem of war production was not prominently named.

As the R.A.F. grew in strength, however, and was able to beat off Nazi air attacks, a smaller and smaller percentage of the public named night bombing as the chief war problem before the country. The main worries then shifted to increasing the war output and the training of manpower both for combat and for factory work.

The following table shows the changing view. It indicates the principal replies to the question, "What do you think is the most important problem the British government must solve in the next few months?"

	Nov. 1940	Dec. 1941
War production	5%	29%
Organizing our manpower		11
Maintaining food supplies	12	8
Submarine warfare and ship losses	8	6
Invading the continent	4	5
Night bombing	12	1
Safer shelters	12	*
* Less than 1%.

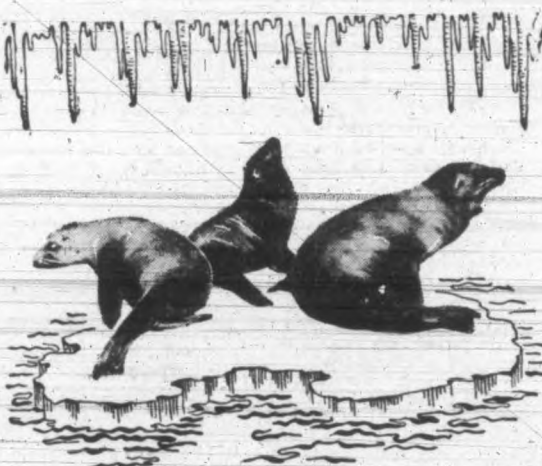

It can be seen that problems of production and manpower have steadily moved to the top. Problems of food supply, shipping losses, and bombing have receded.

Since the December survey was taken in Britain a substantial sentiment has developed there for an offensive this year.

In a recent survey only a relatively few Britons wanted the country to stand on the defensive the rest of the year, while approximately two-thirds called for an offensive.

The results are noteworthy not only because they showed the public with a fairly clear grasp of the real problems, but also because they indicate that the country is still thinking in terms of production and not in terms of American combat abroad. The supplying of goods and materials, in line with the "arsenal of democracy" principle, is apparently considered more important than the sending of mass armies for offensive action at this time. Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

ONE OF THE most interesting rivalries on the major golf front is that between the two former caddies Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan. Everybody who takes the slightest interest in this great sport is familiar with these two great links personalities.

They have come a long way in 18 years, these two ex-caddies who learned their golf on the hard, dry fairways of Texas.

Old-timers still chant the praises of Harry Vardon, Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones, but Nelson and Hogan have reached heretofore unknown scoring levels.

The story of Nelson, who not a few veteran observers consider the greatest golfer machine the world has ever known, is one of sheer courage and dogged effort.

From deep in the heart of Texas, which was to produce not only him and Hogan, but the Mangrum brothers, Ray and Lloyd, Ralph Guldahl, Gus Moreland, and others, Nelson learned his golf the hard way.

He picked up the rudiments of the game as a caddy. When he grew older, he became a file clerk in a railroad office, hopped a streetcar at five each night to hustle to the club for practice.

He worked indefatigably over his game, studied the experts, kept his ears open, kept on swinging. The pickings were lean when he turned professional in 1932. They called him the Candy Kid because he often nibbled a chocolate bar on the course. They didn't realize he was making it do for lunch.

His first purse was $75 in the Texarkana Open, but when he hit the California circuit, his net was $12,500, earned in the Los Angeles Open.

Nelson had confidence in himself, however, and when he returned married Louise Shofner and became pro at Texarkana.

Flyers Hockey Champs

Swamp Ports 7 to 1

TORONTO (CP) — Hockey togethery was discarded for air force blue today as revellers summoned Canada's new senior hockey champions — Ottawa Flyers — back to the more important job of winning the war.

The Flyers won the Allan Cup in convincing manner here Saturday night as they downed Port Arthur Bearcats 7 to 1 in the deciding game of a best-of-five series. Only one other military team ever won the title — the first Battalion of Winnipeg in 1916.

In their sensational march to amateur hockey's highest award, the pride of the Royal Canadian Air Force established a brilliant record. Until the Forts stopped them in the third game of the cup series, the Flyers were unbeaten in 20 straight games.

Not since the trophy was first donated in 1908 when the Cliff-sides won it, has an Ottawa team gained the honors. The Flyers' victory gives eastern Canada a 19 to 16 edge over the west in 35 years of cup competition.

WERE TOO GOOD

"They were too good for us," said coach Hugh O'Leary of the Bearcats, congratulating the Flyers on their triumph after spotting Port Arthur a goal in the first period. "I think our boys played themselves out in their comeback to win the third and fourth games."

Hopes of the west ran high in the first period when Bill Mc

Dick Grout and Bobby Cruickshank straightened out his grip and in 1935, when he moved to Ridgewood, N.J., George Jacobus made him use an upright instead of a flat swing.

In 1936, he won the New Jersey Open against Craig Wood, Johnny Farrell and Vic Ghezzi. He added the important Metropolitan Open title.

Nelson became Lord Byron in 1937. He won the Masters', the $12,000 Belmont in Massachusetts, went to England with the Ryder Cup team and topped the qualifying medal in the P.G.A.

Nelson calls 1938 an off-year. He finished fifth in the U.S. Open at Denver when he skied to a 9 on the fifth hole and a 7 on the 17th.

In 1939, Byron gained his top triumph when he won the U.S. Open at Spring Mill in Philadelphia after a double playoff with Wood and Denny Shute.

He is professional today at Toledo, O., Inverness Club, is spending a week at Pinehurst making an instructional golf movie. The slim, ruddy-checked Texan with brown hair, nice features and laughing blue eyes is a serious business man at golf, visits the 19th hole infrequently, finishes his round and keeps moving. He is one of golf's more accomplished teachers.

Ask him to name the most important factors in the game, and he'll call them off in this order: Patience, stamina, coolness, courage and competitive urge.

Rated by Tommy Armour as "the best I've ever seen," his iron game is particularly sound. He is usually string-straight off the tee and, although his putter was jittery at Augusta this year, generally reliable on the green.

Had he been sharp on the carpet — he never was below 30 putts a round — Byron Nelson would have set a record for the Augusta National course that the masters would be shooting at for years to come.

Fred Moore Champ

Fred Moore captured the lower island target shooting championship Saturday afternoon putting on the brilliant score of 99.2 out of a possible 100.

But Moore only won after a keen shoot-off with Bobby Richardson. Three times the pair tied with Moore winning on the fourth attempt.

The Accuracy Cup was captured by Richardson, Jack Roach finishing second. Bill Lucas' fine average during the season won him a trophy.

V.M.D. Beat Services

Lift Soccer Trophy

Pair of goals by hustling Trevor Harvey and a third by Alvin Parks gave Victoria Machinery Depot a 3 to 1 triumph over the United Services in the final of the Jackson Cup series Saturday afternoon. Match marked the close of play in local events with the Province Cup the lone remaining competition for Victoria clubs.

Presentation of the Jackson Cup, representing the lower island championship, was made following the match with Magistrate Hall, former president of the Victoria and District League, handing the trophy to Harvey, captain of the V.M.D.

Machinery Depot presented a much better balanced eleven. They uncorked a smoother attack and had a great deal more scoring opportunities, even though they failed to take advantage of a number of them in

Unknown Rookies Crash Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookies good enough to break into the major league line-ups at the start of the season usually get such a build-up during the winter and spring that baseball fans know them like so many relatives. But this year the house is creeping with strangers.

Approximately a dozen youngsters who were picked up by the big league clubs after their posters had been printed this spring have managed to get by in the National and American Leagues.

The prize among these surprises, of course, turned out to be rangy Willard Marshall, the outfielder whom New York Giants bought from Atlanta in February on a conditional basis.

He created quite a stir in his two seasons with the Crackers after leaving Wake Forest College, but was almost denied a chance in the big leagues because he is 21 and is expected to be gobbled up by the army soon.

The Giants also came home with another unheralded outfielder, Howard Moss, who was being steered upward through the Giants' farm system and had a ticket for Jersey City. Instead manager Mel Ott of the Giants shocked everybody by deporting Johnny Ruckey to Jersey City and keeping Moss.

CLEVELAND RECRUIT

Chicago White Sox brought a fine looking prospect back from California in the person of Harry Skitchey, fresh out of the University of California at Los Angeles. He was supposed to go to the Sox' Waterloo Farm, but when Taft Wright was injured and unable to open the season in center field, Skitchey got his chance and won at least one early game with a timely hit.

The mite currently hitting down second base for Washington Senators is Jose Luis Gomez, part-time president of Mexico City. He is 29 years old and has been moving mysteriously in the major league background for years. Last year he played at Pueblo, Mexico.

Alex Kvasnak, an 18-year-old Czechoslovakian outfielder who wears spectacles and hit .340 at Newport, Tenn., also is an added starter on the Senators' squad.

Cincinnati has a couple of unknowns in pitcher Ewell Blackwell and infielder Joe Abreu. Blackwell, 20 years old and just out of high school, was plucked from a semi-pro team in California. Abreu, who also comes from the coast, is reported to be the best magician ever to reach the major league.

Philadelphia Athletics have Ken Richardson, a young outfielder who played at Williamsport last year.

Doubtless there are other rookies sitting on benches in big league parks who will be heard from later. Just keep an eye on the strangers.

WEEKLY SHOOT

The Rainbow Rifle Club held its weekly shoot over the weekend. Scores out of a possible 100 follow:

A class — W. Brown 98, E. Jones 92.
B class — W. Grieve 94, H. Robinson 92, P. Bullivant 91.
C class — W. Court 93, D. Emery 92, D. Tippett 92, A. Carrington 90, A. Harmsworth 90, B. Cicci 88, E. Rouge 86, R. Ramsay 86, Rodwell 83, J. Cicci 81, S. Webster 76 and Sanders 70.

Reclaiming Golf Ball

Mary Gripp illustrates step by step rehabilitation of a golf ball in Chicago. Left to right, cover steamed loose; rubber-wound core before it is brought to size; after wrapping; new coat of balata ready for molding; and newly painted ball. Balata is easily obtained from South America, in contrast to rubber, which is scarce.

Cleveland Paces Yanks

Mills Comes Through

His real name is Colonel Mills, but the baseball fans who watched him keep Cleveland Indians in a first-place tie in the American League with a two-run single at Chicago Sunday now know why his friends all call him Buster.

Held to one hit by Johnny Rigney for seven innings, the Indians were about ready to kiss their winning streak goodbye. Then Jeff Heath opened the eighth for the Tribe with a single and Les Fleming followed suit.

Manager Lou Boudreau, who has surprised everyone else if not himself by the apparent miracle he has worked at Cleveland, wiped out half of the White Sox two-run lead with a double and looked around for a pinch hitter after Ray Mack had been purposely passed to load the sacks.

His choice was Colonel (Buster) Mills, an outfielder who has shifted from the majors to the minors and back again since he ended his collegiate athletic career at the University of Oklahoma by kicking the field goal that gave the Westerns a 3 to 0 victory in the east-west football game on New Year's Day, 1931.

Purchased from Kansas City shortly before the season opened, Buster lived up to his name by smacking a single that scored Fleming and Boudreau with the tying and winning runs. The 3 to 2 triumph was the eighth straight for the Tribe which kept them even with New York Yankees at the top of the American League.

The Yankees, meanwhile, exploded as usual in one big inning, pushing over six runs in the third at Boston and coasting to a 7 to 2 decision over the Red Sox behind the two-hit pitching of Marvin Breuer.

At Detroit, the Tigers swept both ends of a doubleheader with St. Louis Browns, boosting their own winning spree to five in a row and stretching the Browns' string of losses to nine straight.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers tightened their grip on the lead and Pittsburgh Pirates pushed New York Giants out of second place with the help of Boston Braves.

Dodgers downed Philadelphia Phils 3 to 1 and 10 to 2 and hiked their record to 11 victories in 14 starts as Curt Davis and Ed Head chalked up their third pitching victories against no defeats.

The Pirates blanked St. Louis Cardinals, 2 to 0, in the first game at St. Louis, but the second wound up in a 4 to 4 deadlock when darkness intervened at the end of the 11th.

At New York, Boston Braves snapped out of an eight-game losing streak and ended the Giants' four-game winning party by capturing a double bill, 3 to 2 and 8 to 5.

Cincinnati Reds defeated Chicago Cubs 9 to 5 at home.

COAST LEAGUE

The Pacific Coast League didn't do things by halves last week, to wit:

1. San Diego fattened its batting average with 88 hits in seven games against San Francisco, winning six of the seven.
2. Seattle pitchers held Oakland to six runs in five games, letting down once, when Oakland scored eight times for its only victory in the six games of the series played so far.
3. Los Angeles murdered Sacramento six times straight,

Open Canadian Championship Bid Tonight

MONTREAL (CP) — Victoria Dominoes, three times Dominion senior basketball champions, arrived in Montreal Sunday, all set to tackle the eastern titleholders, Montreal Oilers, in the first game of a best-of-five series here tonight.

The Dominoes are slight favorites to take the Montreal Sportsman's Trophy, emblematic of the Canadian crown, but Coach Johnny Ferraro of the Oilers isn't worried. "We'll be in there," he said.

This year marks the 18th national playoff in senior basketball, and the western contenders have won 14 times, while the east was victorious only three times. The Montreal trophy was first put up for competition in 1926.

Ronnie Wilson, who paced the Oilers into the eastern finals, but who missed the series against Dalhousie University, will be back with the Montrealers for tonight's game. Others on the Montreal lineup include Coach Ferraro, Bob Irwin, Joe Richmond, Pat Griffin, Dudley Bloomfield, Johnny Lands and Ted Edwards. Bloomfield and Richmond were on the Montreal Y.M.H.A. team which lost in the Dominion finals against Vancouver Maple Leafs two seasons ago.

Dominoes won their way into the Canadian final with victories over Saskatoon R.C.A.F. and Winnipeg St. Andrews.

ST. ANDREWS WIN
VANCOUVER (CP) — For the eighth time in the history of the club, St. Andrews will hold the Mainland Cup, emblematic of soccer supremacy on the mainland.

The Scots downed North Shore United, 2 to 1, here Saturday before a crowd of more than 2,500, and on the game's play they deserved to win. They put on a brilliant rally in the last 15 minutes of the first half in an attempt to equalize and then shortly after the game got under way again lost no time in making good on a couple of chances that came their way, to go into the lead.

No less than three penalty kicks were handed out and all were missed. Jackie Jones failed to make one of them count for the Scots and Jimmy Spencer missed two for the Reds.

Gorge Hotel in Bowling Final

Defeating the Poodle Dog Cafe three games to one in the semifinals, Gorge Hotel reached the final Saturday of the Senior Ten-pin League playoffs at the Arcade Alleys. The hotelmen will oppose the first-place Arcades in the deciding roll off.

Scores follow:
Poodle Dog Cafe: J. Howell 730, A. Morgan 678, R. Semple 432, A. Borthwick 127, A. Ridell 671, R. Wilson 720. Total, 3,358.

Gorge Hotel: W. Norris 701, F. Welsh 685, E. Borge 761, W. Sturken 320, R. Turner 332, M. Lawson 694. Total, 3,493.

Ron Wilson, secretary of the league, headed the season's averages with a mark of 179.7 for 87 games. Harold Paulding was runner-up with 179.6 and Bill Norris third with 178.5. Fourth place went to W. Templeton with 177 and fifth to Red Lawson with 175.

A. Borthwick of the Poodle Dog Cafe won the high three-game laurels with 674, and actually topped the bowlers in the single-game scores with 256. However, as no bowler is allowed to take more than one individual award, the prize will go to Templeton with 252.

Where to Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS - Greta Garbo in "Two-Faced Woman."

CADET - Clark Gable and Lana Turner in "Honky-Tonk."

CAPITOL - "Son of Fury," starring Tyrone Power.

DOMINION - Hedy Lamarr and Robert Young in "H. M. Pulham, Esq."

OAK BAY PLAZA - "Jungle Book," starring Sabu and Patricia O'Rourke.

RIO - "If I Had My Way," starring Bing Crosby and Gloria Jean.

YORK - Rex Harrison in "School for Husbands."

'SON OF FURY' NOW AT CAPITOL

When a film story spans the seven seas and three continents, it presents an enormous task to the producers. All sorts of problems present themselves, and it takes masterful planning, a prodigious amount of research and long jaunts on the part of cameramen to overcome these obstacles.

A case in point is the new 20th Century-Fox adventure film, "Son of Fury," which stars Tyrone Power at the Capitol Theatre. The action starts in Bristol, England, continues aboard a sailing vessel. There is an entire sequence on a Tahitian Island complete with dancing natives, colorful pageantry and romantic interludes. The conclusion takes the action back to England with a stirring denouement in an historic British court.

'JUNGLE BOOK' OFFERS THRILLS

A small boy perches on a high tree trunk over a sluggish river. At a signal from a whistle he hurtles into the water and starts swimming with all his might for the opposite bank. Suddenly out of a cove appears a giant crocodile speedily pursuing the tawny-skinned boy. Watchers on both banks hold their breath as the race continues. At first, it seems as though the lad is outswimming the huge crocodile by only a few feet. But after breathless moments, the boy wins the race.

The heroic boy is Sabu and the exciting moment is a scene in Alexander Korda's technicolor production of Rudyard Kipling's "Jungle Book," the current attraction at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

'HONKY-TONK' SET BIGGEST AT M-G-M

The locale for "Honky-Tonk," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new romantic drama co-starring Clark Gable and Lana Turner for the first time and currently at the Cadet Theatre, required the largest set ever constructed on the studio lots - three acres, a complete mining town (mushroom variety), with skimpily dwellings, saloons, city hall and even a little mission house were erected.

GARBO APPEARS IN DUAL ROLE

Greta Garbo returns in her latest picture, "Two-Faced Woman," opening today at the Atlas Theatre. In it she appears in a dual role which offers her the opportunity of playing the usual Garbo character - grave, serious and touched by a kind of haunting sadness - and also a gay, humorous carefree girl. That the actress can handle comedy superbly was demonstrated in "Ninotchka," that she is able to treat tragedy in the style of the great actresses, such as Bernhardt and Duse, has been proved many times as in "Camille," for example, or "Conquest."

SAUCY COMEDY ON YORK SCREEN

"School for Husbands," now at the York Theatre, is a saucy comedy starring Rex Harrison, Diana Churchill and June Clyde, wives of two respectable, but dull, business men. The boys, of course, are wise (or think they are), and the whole film deals with their attempt to pin something on Harrison. That, as you can well imagine, is a pretty thin framework on which to hang a plot - but think of the situations it can create, especially when the husbands feign a business trip to Paris, each with the intention of rushing home to surprise his wife in a clench, with the menace.

VAUDEVILLE STARS IN CROSBY FILM

Five famous personages of old-time vaudeville make their appearance with Bing Crosby and Gloria Jean in Universal's "If I Had My Way," now at the Rio Theatre.

The five are Eddie Leonard, Blanche Ring, Trixie Friganza, Grace LaRue and Julian Eltinge. Leonard and Miss Ring sing the specialty numbers which made them famous on the vaudeville stage.

'Valley of the Son' Showing Tomorrow

In the early days of the screen, the cowboy-and-Indian theme was the principal feature of celluloid entertainment, and the red man occupied a prominent place in picture circles during the era when pictures themselves were seldom more than one reel long.

However, the Indian has never lost his popularity, as is evidenced in RKO Radio's "Valley of the Sun," coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, which deals with a romance and an Apache uprising in the days of Geronimo.

To lend authenticity to the picture, only two synthetic redskins among the many hundreds were used. Aside from these two, Antonio Moreno and Tom Tyler, who portrays two of the noted Apache leaders of the period, the Indians in the picture are real.

Liked Medicine

Medicine nearly lured John Charles Thomas from his career as a baritone, when he was at the age when young men are pondering seriously on their future.

His early leanings were in the direction of medicine. In fact he was attending the Baltimore Medical School when he unexpectedly won a scholarship for the Peabody Conservatory of Music in that city. A quick decision was necessary. Thomas says that he let a coin determine the issue. Music won. The scholarship was accepted and under the guidance of Adelphi Fermin, the young man undertook to become a singer.

His first opportunity for a professional experience, came the following year when he was given an audition by Henry W. Savage in New York. As a result he was made a definite part of the Savage forces. Many other appearances in light opera followed until Thomas decided to undertake a higher form of singing. It is a well-known story how he progressed from opera comique to grand opera, becoming leading baritone at the Royal Opera of Belgium.

Thomas, who is now a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company will be heard in concert here next Monday at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Hiker Attractions are presenting Mr. Thomas as the final event of their subscription series for this season, and tickets are now on sale at Fletcher Bros., 1130 Douglas Street.

Pastor and Wife Had Silver Wedding

The Central Baptist Church was filled with members and adherents Friday evening who had been secretly called together to surprise Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Rowell on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. Rowell were greeted by the strains of the Wedding March, and found themselves in the midst of a standing crowd. Preceding them down the aisle was a pretty little flower girl, Anne Hinde, dressed in pale blue silk and carrying a basket of carnations. On the reading desk a two-tier wedding cake had been placed on a Tuscan lace cover, with a large candle on either side.

W. Hick was master of ceremonies, and explained the occasion. Letters of congratulation and appreciation were read from the various organizations of the church. Miss Joyce Richards, on behalf of the young people's group, made a presentation of a trifle flower lamp.

A. Coombs, senior charter member of the church, on behalf of the members and friends, presented the surprised couple with a case of cutlery, also an envelope containing something which he urged was to be used for some specific personal requirement, and not for the church. Dr. Rowell replied on behalf of himself and his wife, expressed appreciation of the kindly thought and good will.

Miss May Veale sang a song, the words of which had been composed by Dr. Rowell on the occasion of a silver wedding 10 years ago, entitled "Together Life's Pathway We Tread," and which had just been set to music by Miss Phyllis Hick. The program included vocal solo by Fred Hussy, "Central Is Willing"; piano solo, "A Festive Scene"

A resident of Victoria for 65 years, Mrs. W. H. Clarke, 3152 Delta Street, celebrated her 84th birthday last Thursday. Born Annie Carlou in St. Andrews, N.B., Mrs. Clarke came to Victoria with her family in August, 1877, marrying in November of the same year. Her husband, who died 10 years ago, was for many years foreman of the city sewage department. Mrs. Clarke has nine children, 29 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

from Beethoven, by Bernard Hick; a vocal trio, "Hiding in Thee," by Misses Grace and Frances Rowell and Dora Freeman; piano solo, "Island Spell," by Miss Phyllis Hick; violin solos, "Nocturne," a song of love, and "Face to Face," by Miss Hick, with Bernard Hick at the piano. Choruses were also sung by the assembled young people, led by Albert McCarthy.

Refreshments were served by members of the Young People's Group.

Shortly after 1, Sunday morning, two soldiers smashed the window of Rowbottom's Jewelry Store, Douglas Street, and escaped with an undetermined amount of loot, running north on Douglas toward the Hudson's Bay Company store. Detectives Louis Callan and George Clayards attended with Sgt. John Blackstock. Six wrist watches were found lying outside the store and brought to the station.

Canada's new speed limit of 40 miles an hour will come into effect May 1, B.C. Police Commissioner T. W. C. Parsons, said today.

On roads in unorganized territory there is no speed limit at the present time. It is up to the driver to decide what is dangerous.

After next Thursday, however, the 40-mile limit will apply to all roads all over Canada in accordance with a federal order-in-council designed to conserve gasoline and rubber for wartime uses.

L.O.O.F. Celebrates 123rd Anniversary

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Sunday commemorated the 123rd anniversary of the founding of the L.O.O.F. at a church service at 7.30 at Centennial United Church.

Rev. John Turner, a former active figure in the lodge, conducted the service. He spoke of the "Unperishable Things of Life," his thesis being that friendship, love and truth, the watchwords of the L.O.O.F., will abide when all other things have fallen. The L.O.O.F. was founded by Thomas Wilkey, who had been a member of the Manchester Unity, in 1819 at Baltimore, U.S.A. Membership today, which totals 3,000, 000, is largely confined to the United States and Canada, but there are lodges throughout the world and grand lodges and quasi-independent grand lodges in many nations.

The organization spends $8, 000,000 annually in relief to distressed members. The order maintains 70 homes for care of the old and indigent. B.C. membership of the order is 13,000.

Bruce Left Money To Windermere Groups

CRANBROOK (CP)—Probate of the will of the late Hon. Randolph Bruce showed substantial bequests to organizations of the Windermere Valley where he made his home for many years and developed the Paradise Mine. Bequests of $1,000 each were made to the Windermere District Farmers' Institute and the Atholmer-Invermere Consolidated School for a scholarship and $500 to the Windermere district Canadian Legion post. Mr. Bruce, a former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, and Canadian Minister to Japan, gave his home overlooking Lake Windermere to the district several years ago, fully equipped as a hospital.

Labor Scarcity

Youbou Burning 100 Cords a Day

While Victoria worries about its fuel supply, between 50 and 100 cords of wood are being burned each day at Youbou because of a labor shortage which prevents the Industrial-Timber Co. mill there from handling it for shipment south, Alderman W. L. Morgan reported today.

The alderman went to Youbou in response to instructions from the City Council asking him to see if provision could be made to secure small loads for welfare cases here.

The company, he was told, could not secure men to work on the conveyor at 60 cents an hour to handle the firewood cut. Men formerly engaged in such activity were getting better jobs in the mill or elsewhere and the concern could not raise wages to hold them owing to the wage freezing order, Alderman Morgan said.

"The wood is there and it's being destroyed," he added, imputing the loss to the government regulation.

If the mill could not secure men for the job in the summertime it might have to close to avoid undue hazards through burning during the fire season, the alderman said.

He is still negotiating to secure fuel for the welfare office.

TAXI VERDICT ACCIDENTAL DEATH

After 25 minutes' deliberation a coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Home today at the inquest on John Blair Creagh, taxi driver, who was killed early Saturday morning, when his cab shot off Langford Street, near Alston, and plunged 50 feet through bush and over rocks.

Lawrence Lee, a driver for the Blue Line, said he saw the car off the road at 2.20, Saturday morning while returning from a call. He stated he could see the driver sitting up and leaning slightly over the steering wheel of the car, in which the dome light was burning. Lee said he thought the car was parked and did not bother to stop.

Dr. Howard Dobson, interne at the Jubilee Hospital, to whom the body was taken, Saturday morning, said Creagh had been dead from one and a half to two hours when he arrived. Death, he stated was from head injuries, a large laceration to the right and back of the head, hemorrhage of the nose and right eye and a possible fracture of the base of the skull.

The jury was driven out to the scene of the accident and later viewed the car, in which Creagh met his death.

Two Car Smashes

David Armstrong is resting comfortably in the Jubilee Hospital today, suffering from lacerations of the head and chest bruises, after his car rammed a telephone pole on Bay Street, near Ludgate, Sunday night at 11.

Dr. W. W. Stewart attended Armstrong, who lives at 933 Green Street. The front of his car was badly damaged. Little personal damage was inflicted, but both cars were smashed badly, when a car driven south on Linden Avenue, by Leonard J. Stephenson, and a car, driven west on Rockland Avenue, by John A. Craig, collided. Stephenson's car was lying on its right side when Sgt. Harry Mercer and Constables Stanley Holmes and Robert Mair attended shortly before nine this morning.

Light Bulbs Stolen

Three dozen light bulbs and a claw hammer were stolen when the basement of the Sussex Apartments, Douglas Street, was broken into shortly after 4 Sunday morning.

Constables W. Elliott and T. Banister attended and found that entrance had been gained by a rear window, the thieves dropping into the basement where the panels of two doors were broken and the padlock on another door was smashed.

The break-in was reported by a night watchman. Detective Percy Richards attended later in the morning.

Big Labor Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. war labor board received its biggest case today when Labor Secretary Frances Perkins turned up a General Motors union dispute involving 200,000 workers at 85 plants, to the new agency. There was no stoppage of work.

NO SUGAR SALES IN U.S. THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retail sugar sales in the United States will cease at midnight tonight when a one-week "freeze" sets in. They will be resumed Tuesday, May 5, on a rationing basis.

Books of rationing stamps for individual consumers will operate this way: The first stamp will permit the purchase of one pound of sugar in the period May 5-16; the second will be valid for the May 17-30 period; the third for May 31-June 13, and the fourth for June 14-27. The amount allowed for each stamp after June 27 will be announced later.

Restaurants and other food services next month will be allotted 50 per cent of the amount of sugar they used in May, 1941. Bakers, confectioners, ice cream makers, dairy products companies, bottlers and other specialty industries will get 70 per cent of their May, 1941, supply. Industrial consumers at present are receiving approximately 80 per cent of last year's consumption.

Ripley Features Tilkum Voyage

The exploits of Capt. J. C. Voss, Victoria skipper who sailed around the world in his 35-foot dug-out Indian canoe, Tilkum, now displayed at Thunderbird Park, will be featured by Robert Ripley in his continent-wide syndicate "Believe It or Not," Wednesday.

Except for a short distance, Capt. Voss, who sailed from Victoria May 27, 1901, navigated the little craft single-handed. He visited during his 40,000-mile trip, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa, South America. He finished his voyage at Margate, at the mouth of the Thames.

The Tilkum, decked and rigged for the voyage, holds the record for the longest trip taken by an Indian dug-out. There are numerous legends about Capt. Voss, but few of them are true. One legend says Voss was shanghaied by agents of the German navy in Japan during the early days of the Great War. He was held captive on the German warship to be used, as a pilot when the ships attacked British Columbia, so the legend goes.

The legend even goes so far as to say Capt. Voss went down with the vessel in a sea battle off the Falkland Islands.

Harry T. Barnes, local yachtsman, and George I. Warren of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, were instrumental in bringing the remains of the Tilkum to Victoria. On investigating Capt. Voss' record, it was found he died at Tracy, California, Feb. 2, 1922, and was buried in the town cemetery. The Victoria and Island Public Bureau furnished information about Capt. Voss and his voyage to Ripley.

B.C. Unemployment Drops to New Low

There were 600 fewer unemployed in B.C. in March than in February, E. W. Griffith, unemployment administrator, said today.

Unemployment is now at its lowest point since it became necessary to grant public relief 10 years ago. In March there were 14,505 persons receiving relief, Mr. Griffith said. Of these 6,291 were classed as employables, 8,304 as unemployables. These figures include dependents.

Among the employable were 1,364 heads of families with 3,073 dependents, and 1,754 single persons. In the unemployable group were 1,485 family heads with 2,841 dependents, and 3,788 single persons.

In March, 1941, 29,888 persons were on relief. There is a drop for March of this year of 15,383 persons.

Hugh Francis Heads Retail Merchants

Hugh Francis, vice-chairman of the retail merchants' group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, this morning was elected chairman. He succeeds George MacDonald who had served as chairman for three years.

V. A. Cory was chosen vice-chairman. In his report to the annual meeting, Mr. MacDonald spoke of the effects of war on retailing. He said the group had worked for satisfactory gasoline rationing to merchants, had supported the tourist trade group to get the annual publicity grant from the city, and had supported the normal tax rate for the city suggesting any surplus be used for A.R.P.

A vote of thanks for Mr. MacDonald's services was passed by the meeting.

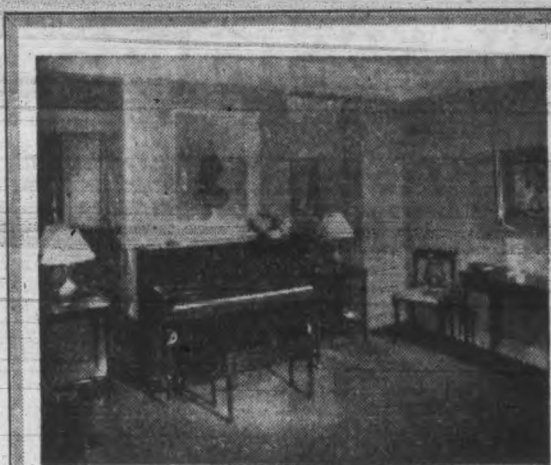

To Show Sports Wear At Coming Fair

What Victoria women will wear at play, during the shopping hours or attending their various war work and knitting meetings will be shown at the Allied Nations Victory Fair being held at the Crystal Garden, May 5, under the joint auspices of the Women's Canadian Club and the Knishmen Club. George Strath Ltd. have put their ladies' wear at the disposal of Mrs. T. A. Johnston, who has charge of this part of the entertainment. The mannequins will be Mrs. Trevor C. Roberts, Mrs. G. H. Simons, Mrs. Borden, Mrs. McMoran, Mrs. Jack Hewitt, Miss Grace Stuart, Miss Peggy Jones, Miss Ruth Gardner and Miss Diana Macdowell.

For play and swim suits the Society of the Preservation of the Native Plants of British Columbia renews its request to the city to enforce by-law prohibiting picking of wild flowers in city controlled parks in another letter on file.

Attendance of one representative of the Victoria Fire Department at the special fire fighting course in Washington, D.C., is recommended by the Advisory Council, Provincial Civilian Protection Commission, in a letter to the council.

Smart in Style

Glorious in Tone

A piano is first and foremost a musical instrument, but as the focal point in your living-room, it must have a case design that gives character and charm to the entire room. A demonstration will convince you that the new Heintzman more than live up to their 90-year reputation for glorious tone. The small size, smart styling and fine finish of the new Heintzman blend in perfectly with the home of today.

A little-down and a little each month buys your Heintzman. Your old piano will be accepted in exchange.

Tickets can be obtained at Fletcher's Music Store, also at the door.

War Housing Builds Large Staff Houses

To accommodate between 160 and 175 single war workers, Wartime Housing Ltd. is now laying the foundations on Colville Road for two large staff houses. James Bartle, resident supervisor of the housing project, said over the weekend. These staff houses will be two stories high, 205 feet long and 29 feet wide. There will be 50 dormitory rooms upstairs. Writing, lounge and trunk rooms, washrooms and showers, and living quarters for a married janitor will be included in the downstairs accommodation. A dining-room, 108 feet by 48 feet, will be located in the centre of the downstairs floor, with a kitchen and refrigerating rooms. The buildings are being erected as quickly as possible, Mr. Bartle said. Although there is difficulty in obtaining skilled workers, every carpenter available is being employed. Both buildings will be of frame construction and centrally heated.

CITY HALL BRIEFS

Plans for the annual Municipal Officials' Association conference here on July 1 and 2 are outlined in a letter on file at the City Hall today from Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipalities.

Use of a lot adjoining the company's plant is sought by the Durable Mat Co. (Canada) Ltd. for storage of tire-rims formerly discarded by the company in its mat-making. Conservation of the rims is sought by the rubber controller's office.

Attendance of one representative of the Victoria Fire Department at the special fire fighting course in Washington, D.C., is recommended by the Advisory Council, Provincial Civilian Protection Commission, in a letter to the council.

Mackenzie King SaysAffirmative Vote Not Party Vote

OTTAWA (CP)—Following is the text of a press statement issued by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, replying to a telegram from Conservative House Leader Hanson in regard to the plebiscite:

I have just received from the Leader of the Opposition (Hon. R. B. Hanson), a telegram in which Mr. Hanson states that, in his opinion, my broadcast of Friday night is open to the construction that I would regard an affirmative vote as a vote of confidence in the government.

Nothing, of course, could have been further from my thoughts. I should like it to be known that I shall not regard an affirmative vote in this light. I have made this wholly clear in the following reply which I have sent to Mr. Hanson's communication:

"I am obliged to you for advising me that certain words in my broadcast are being construed as meaning that should an affirmative vote be given on the plebiscite on Monday next I would regard the result as a vote of confidence in the government."

NO PARTY MATTER
"Nothing could have been further from my thoughts. I stated in Parliament on Feb. 25 that if the vote should be overwhelmingly in the affirmative I would not for one moment claim that it was a vote of confidence in the government. That is the position I have taken right along and it is the position I shall continue to take. The plebiscite is in no sense a party matter. At different stages in your own (plebiscite) broadcasts you said:

"To vote yes is not to vote for any political party."
"To vote yes is not to vote confidence in Mr. Mackenzie King."

"The fate of the government is not at stake."
"You are not called upon to vote for or against the government. Political considerations and ties are not in question."

"With all of these statements I am in complete agreement with you."

PERSONAL POSITION
"The statement made in my broadcast that I would not wish to continue in office did I not continue to enjoy the confidence of those who have returned me to office was an expression of personal attitude which I have always taken and which I shall always hold."

"That is however something quite different from considering an affirmative vote on the question asked in the plebiscite as a vote of confidence in the present administration. Let me repeat that I would not so regard an affirmative vote on the plebiscite."

"I am giving the contents of this telegram to the press and have arranged with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to have it included in news broadcasts. I myself am precluded by the regulations from making a further broadcast."

I shall be obliged if between now and Monday as much publicity as possible can be given by the press to this statement.

C.C.F.'S POSITION
C.C.F. M.P.'s held a caucus here Sunday and issued a statement in connection with Prime Minister King's broadcast speech of Friday night on the plebiscite.

"The C.C.F. condemns in the strongest possible language the Prime Minister's statement last Friday in which he intimated that a negative vote would be considered one of nonconfidence in his leadership and in the government of which he is the head. This is entirely contrary to the clear assurance given by him earlier. On Feb. 25, Mr. King said in Parliament, 'If the vote should be overwhelmingly in support of the administration I shall not for one moment claim that it is a vote of confidence in this particular government in carrying on the war.'"

"In his radio address on April 21, Mr. King made the position of the C.C.F. abundantly clear when he said, 'No group in this country has been or is as critical of the way in which the Canadian war effort is being conducted as the C.C.F.' We would not therefore urge the Canadian people to vote confidence in a government which we have consistently criticized for its failure to make full use of our resources for an effective war effort."

REMOVE OBSTACLE
"The C.C.F. supported a 'yes' vote because we believed it would remove an obstacle to a more effective prosecution of the war. An affirmative vote will show us and determined to do everything necessary to defeat the Axis dictators. On the other hand, a negative vote would discourage our Allies and give comfort to our enemies, creating an impression which we cannot allow to go abroad even though we condemn this further example of the Prime Minister's inability to deal with vital issues apart from partisan considerations."

"Because of the gravity of the war situation and the Prime Minister's defence that the vote would not be one of confidence, the C.C.F. joined with many others in urging the people to vote 'yes'. That advice it reiterates now because the reasons which prompted our original decision still exist and will remain irrespective of what administration is responsible for carrying on the war."

Regarding a statement by Mr. King on Saturday night that an affirmative vote would not be looked upon as a vote of confidence in the government, M. J. Coldwell, House Leader of the C.C.F. party, said: "We are glad to have this added assurance from the Prime Minister that the vote April 27 will not be considered as a vote of confidence or no confidence in the government."

HANSON SATISFIED
FREDERICTON (CP)—Conservative House Leader Hanson in a statement Sunday said he was "entirely satisfied" with Prime Minister Mackenzie King's statement in the plebiscite would not be regarded as a vote of confidence in the government.

"I accept this statement and I hope our friends throughout the country will accept it," said Mr. Hanson.

Mr. Hanson said that before sending a telegram to Mr. King Saturday he had received a "good many protesting communications in the morning" after the Prime Minister's broadcast Friday night.

He now was entirely satisfied that "implications of a confidence vote in the government" were "not intended."

Requested in Fine Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Out of a wild scramble which saw an outsider nearly upon the apocryphal, Ben Whitaker's Requested won the Wood Memorial Stakes Saturday to make the Kentucky Derby picture more confusing than ever.

For not only did the son of Questionnaire hold his lead all the way around but William Woodward's highly-regarded Apache faded and staggered in third, three lengths off the pace.

Just as astonishing to a crowd of 36,785 who wagered more than $1,500,000, was the finish put on by Bleu D'Or, a sleek colt owned by Walter P. Chrysler, Jr. Given a crack ride by Don Meade, the 22 to 1 shot came like a bullet along the trail in the stretch and just missed catching the front-running Requested and stealing the winner's pot of $22,900.

Two of America's "name" horses of previous years were in competition Saturday.

Challenger nosed out Mioland to win the $10,000-added Philadelphia Handicap as Havre de Grace closed and Whirlaway boosted his life-time earnings to $282,536 by picking up $2,150 for first in the Clark Handicap at Churchill Downs.

At least two new potential starters for the derby came out of the mile and sixteenth Wood test.

Bleu D'Or pulled up lame, but big Jim Healy, his trainer, said he would ship the son of Blue Larkspur if he was all right by Monday. Ed Mulrenan, owner-trainer of First Fiddle, who closed gamely for fourth, said he also might send his galloper.

Music Appreciation HourSymphonic Society Plans Revival of Art in City

The renaissance of symphonic music in Victoria was seen Sunday when between 50 and 60 patrons attended an organization meeting of the Victoria Symphonic Society in the Empress Hotel and heard a "music appreciation" lecture illustrated by members of the Victoria Symphonic Orchestra under Melvin Knudsen.

Lieut. H. Hartie, R.C.N.V.R., president of the society, was in the chair and after outlining the need and purpose of the organization here, introduced Mr. Knudsen, permanent conductor of the orchestra.

Mr. Hartie said previous attempts to foster symphonic groups in the city had failed, chiefly because music-lovers had left to musicians the tasks of organization and business administration. He asked patrons of the society to relieve the artists and the conductor of these burdens, leaving them free to develop and express their art.

FIRST OF SERIES
This music appreciation hour, he said was intended to be the first of a series to be resumed in the autumn; meanwhile a formal concert has been planned for May 18 in the Crystal Garden, tickets for which can be obtained from members or at Fletcher's concert bureau.

Mr. Knudsen, a native son of British Columbia, studied music in western Canada for several years before going to Basel, Switzerland where he worked under the famous Felix Weingartner one of Europe's leading conductors, one-time leader of the Vienna state opera.

Assisted by some 30 members of the orchestra Mr. Knudsen, in a series of brief talks, sketched broadly the interpretative potentialities of various types of music, illustrating them with the music passages from the Cavotie and Air in G by Bach, Dubinsky's arrangement of a traditional Russian Soldiers' Song, the waltz from Tchaikovsky's Serenade for Strings, the Londonderry air, Percy Grainger's arrangement, and the Mozart Symphony in G Minor.

The 300-year-old Minuet Celebre of Beethoven was the only composition performed by the orchestra in full.

POSSIBILITIES SHOWN
With the attenuated orchestra at his command, (there were less than 20 strings, two brasses and two woodwind instruments) Mr. Knudsen was able to display interpretative powers of a high standard. Creating the atmosphere of a rehearsal, he was able to show the gathering a promise of what his nucleus organization will be capable when it is brought up to full strength, and to suggest at least some of the glories of symphonic music, the snap and crackle of plucked strings, the skirl and chatter of the woodwind and the resonant brilliance of the brass.

Officers of the society besides President Lieut. Hartie are D. Kent, vice-president; Mrs. M. Graham, secretary; Miss Fay Ockenand, concert mistress; Mrs. A. C. Burdick, social convener, and Miss Sara Spencer, S. J. D. Clark and W. W. Martin, finance committee.

Following yesterday's meeting tea was served, Miss Sara Spencer and Mrs. C. E. Wilson presiding.

LIEUT. R. H. HARTIE

Local Shipyards On 7-Day Week

Steel shipyards of Vancouver Island today put into effect the seven-day week.

Men were being laid off at the local plants today under the system of staggered hours so they will be able to get their day off on days of the week other than Sunday.

The machinists and pipefitters have yet to sign the new agreements here, it was indicated, but no spokesman could be reached to give the labor attitude.

VANCOUVER SITUATION

VANCOUVER (CP) — F. E. Harrison, west coast representative of the Federal Labor Department, said today he was reporting on Ottawa a breakdown in Labor Minister Mitchell's plan to introduce a program for seven-day week, continuous production in British Columbia shipyards.

Nine of 11 shipyard unions have approved the plan but yesterday the International Association of Machinists and the Blacksmiths' Union turned thumbs down. Spokesmen for both unions said the plan would be virtually unworkable without the co-operation of all unions.

The spokesmen said, however, they would attempt to put the plan into effect today and "if the other two unions refuse to accept the will of the majority, they will work as at present until the matter settled."

The Mitchell plan calls for shipyards to work seven days a week on a six-day shift basis, with shifts staggered to cover Sundays which so far have not been worked.

HELD UNWORKABLE

"The practical application of such a plan was held by the majority of the members to be unworkable because in the skilled crafts such a plan interrupts the continuity of work where skilled men lay off work during the week," R. G. Daniels, president of the Machinists' Union, said in a statement. "Such a situation, it was felt, would decrease efficiency and at the same time retard production as the plan does not necessarily increase the number of work hours over the present production schedules. It was brought out the impossibility of creating three complete shifts due to the lack of competent men."

C. T. Rouse, secretary of the Blacksmiths' and Helpers' Union of Canada, Local No. 1, said the staggered shift plan presented the same difficulties for his union as for the machinists. Each man is doing a certain kind of work

Gilbert Gibson, who joined the Canadian Navy after having served for two years on a troopship in the south Pacific and is now stationed on the Atlantic coast, is home on leave. His elder brother is in England with the Canadian Scottish. They are sons of Wilfred Gibson, photographer of this city and grandson of Rev. W. H. Gibson, retired missionary of B.C.

—some on heavy and some on light forging—and it would seriously interfere with production if the present system were changed, he declared.

TAYLOR DISAPPOINTED

Austin Taylor, vice-president of Maritime Shipping Ltd., for which the yards are turning out 10,000-ton freighters, said he was "not only surprised but I am disappointed."

"I am quite sure the other unions will outweigh the machinists because I am sure they have but one object in view, that is to support our boys at the front by supplying the sinews of war," he added.

Cmdr. Edson Sherwood Navy Liaison Officer

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canada Gazette announces appointment of Cmdr. Edson C. Sherwood, R.C.N., as liaison officer of the staff of the admiral commanding the 13th naval district, Seattle. Appointment of Wing Cmdr. Ernest McNab, D.F.C., of Regina as liaison officer for the R.C.A.F. in Seattle was announced some time ago.

Col. T. B. Monk is liaison officer at Seattle for the army, and Capt. J. H. O'Keefe is liaison officer at a large army fort in the Puget Sound area.

Cmdr. Sherwood, until last year was senior naval A.D.C. to His Excellency the Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone and accompanied him to the Pacific coast last year.

H.M.S. Southwold Reported Sunk

LONDON (CP) — The sinking of the two-year-old destroyer Southwold, commanded by Cmdr. C. T. Jellicoe, nephew of the late Admiral Earl Jellicoe who led the British fleet in the Battle of Jutland in 1916, was announced last night by the Admiralty.

(The Admiralty gave no details but it was recalled that pictures recently received in New York from Preston Grover, Associated Press war correspondent then with the British Mediterranean fleet, showed Cmdr. Jellicoe chatting with a freighter captain the destroyer had rescued. The date of the picture was not given. The Admiralty also did not say whether Jellicoe survived his ship.)

An Admiralty communiqué said: "The Board of Admiralty regrets to announce that the destroyer H.M.S. Southwold (Cmdr. C. T. Jellicoe, D.F.C., R.N.), has been sunk. The next of kin of casualties have been informed."

5 Dead, 262 Hurt In Train Wreck

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — The third car jumped the track as a heavily-laden Hudson River tube train lurched along 75 feet underground at the exchange place station at 10:40 last night, spreading terror, claiming five known dead and injuring 262.

Daniel Casey, Public Safety Commissioner, announced today he had booked the motorman of the eastbound Hudson and Manhattan Railroad's six-car train, Louis Averbuchen, 48, of 10 Barbara Street, Newark, on a manslaughter charge.

"The responsibility is definitely the motorman's," declared Casey, adding that the other trainmen would be questioned. The commissioner said authorities were "trying to find out exactly what happened."

The derailment cut power lines, plunging the tunnel into blackness at the deepest point on the line, just before the train burrows under the Hudson River. Acid fumes gushed from storage batteries in the wrecked car, which left the track with a blinding flash and burst into flames. Women shrieked, car windows were kicked out. One Negro girl, pinned under a seat, had to be extricated by use of acetylene torches.

All but 100 of those injured were released from the medical centre after treatment for superficial injuries.

The cash wheat pit was deserted for most of the session. Shippers and mills were on the buying side of oats in the coarse grain pit while shippers and maltsters gave fair support in barley.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Local and routine business bolstered by adjustments and some export business in wheat came into trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Wheat futures closed unchanged with May at 79 1/2 cents a bushel and July at 80 1/2.

Export business was estimated at about 500,000 bushels of wheat, presumably destined for the United Kingdom. The business did not reflect in the pit where only minor mill purchases, some routine adjustments and local transactions were noted. Chicago futures were reported 1 cent lower near the close.

The cash wheat pit was deserted for most of the session. Shippers and mills were on the buying side of oats in the coarse grain pit while shippers and maltsters gave fair support in barley.

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain prices fluctuated violently today as the market digested the President's anti-inflation message along with the latest development in the government's program to handle the huge domestic wheat surplus. Wheat prices tumbled to net losses of almost 3 cents in the final hour, with quotations near five-month lows.

acted as auctioneer and the sum of $24.65 was raised for the Great Ormond Street Children's Hospital in London, to which proceeds of the two-day show will also be sent, as well as about $15 donated by visitors to the exhibition.

It will be some days yet before the actual amount raised by the show for the hospital is known. About 1,500 persons visited the show Friday and Saturday and were delighted at the excellence of the exhibits, despite the chilly weather of recent days.

Charles Morrison Hospital Secretary

Charles Morrison, for 18 years Royal Jubilee Hospital accountant, was appointed at the last meeting of the board of directors, secretary to succeed D. D. Muir, who died recently after 20 years of service with the hospital.

The board passed a motion of "deepest sympathy and expression of sorrow" at Mr. Muir's passing. The board also resolved a letter of condolence be sent to the family of the late Reeve J. R. Scobie of Saanich.

Average number of patients per day in the hospital during the past month was 320. Sixty-two births were recorded during the month.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Miss M. McDougall, maternity floor supervisor for the past nine years. A number of donations, including $2,000 bequeathed by the late Lady Barnard, were noted.

New Opportunities For Youth in Navy

The naval service announces that facilities are now available in its fast expanding program for the training of young men, medically fit between 17 and 22 years of age as artificer apprentices.

The opportunities now afforded these young men open a professional and a career to the successful trainees at no expense to themselves. The more important subjects of instruction are the machine shop, drafting and blueprint reading, machine shop theory, fitting, mathematics and elementary marine engineering which combined with the handling of men, the adventures and experience in a service with the highest traditions, will prove invaluable in future life.

On the successful completion of their basic training, these young men are taken on active service as engine-room artificers, electrical artificers or ordnance artificers, each a specialized technician, vital to the running and maintenance of the ship, with excellent prospects of rapid promotion.

Such an opportunity has never before been afforded to a young man who completes an apprenticeship in about one half the time it would require under peacetime conditions, and enables him to fulfill a most important contribution to his country.

Applicants are requested to present themselves for interview at the recruiting office, R.C.N. Barracks, Esquimalt, Wednesday, where an engineer officer will be available to provide full information.

P.T.A. Activities

CEDAR HILL P.T.A.
Cedar Hill P.T.A. held a successful country fair in St. Luke's Hall Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. McInnes officially opened the fair at 2. Two songs were rendered by the school choir.

The net sum of $138 was raised. The most outstanding stall was that of the children, who took in the sum of $37. Guests for the afternoon were: Mrs. R. McInnes, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Elcott, Mrs. McKernon, Mr. and Mrs. M. Neilson, Mrs. Brice and Mr. and Mrs. Cullen.

Teddy Johnson presented Mrs. McInnes with a corsage and Nancy Clement presented Mrs. J. Kingscote, the convener, with a corsage.

Rishoo Lucas' Widow Dies in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Maria Hatley Lucas, widow of Bishop J. R. Lucas of Mackenzie River, a pioneer Church of England missionary in the Canadian west, died at her home here Sunday. She had been in poor health for some time.

A native of England, Mrs. Lucas came to Canada in 1893 to be married to Bishop Lucas, then an Anglican missionary in charge of the work at Fort Chipewyan, Athabasca. Fourteen years later they moved to Fort Simpson, where her husband was made Archdeacon of Mackenzie River and later bishop of that region.

Surviving her are two sons, Arthur of Toronto, and Sgt. Major Fred Lucas, overseas.

Essondale Matron Dies From Burns

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Miss Ann Keith, 42, matron at the provincial mental hospital at Essondale, died in a hospital here Sunday night from burns suffered Saturday night.

She was burned about the body when a short circuit in a refrigerator apparently set fire to curtains, the blaze spreading to her clothing.

More Nippon Planes Crashed

Allies Topping Japs In South Pacific Sky

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP)—Answering a sudden intensification of Japanese air activity, wide-ranging Allied bombers lashed out again and blasted enemy bases at Lae, New Guinea, and Bougainville, in the Solomon Islands, it was announced today.

At least four Japanese planes were destroyed in the raid on Lae—one in the air and three on the ground—a communiqué said.

Military quarters expressed belief the continuing Allied offensive might force a speedy showdown in this vital war theatre.

Asserting the Japanese could not afford to remain passive while the Allies steadily built up their striking power in Australia, these quarters declared the enemy would have to adopt one of two courses:

1. Attack Australia directly, or
2. Attempt to capture all of New Guinea and the string of islands to the south and east, with a view to cutting American supply routes to Australia.

New Caledonia Operations Important

The landing of United States forces on the Free French island of New Caledonia, announced Saturday, was viewed by observers as a move intended to thwart Japanese expansion to the east or a possible attack on New Zealand.

It was reported the Japanese had been concentrating ships, men, supplies and planes in the Marshall Islands in apparent preparation for some new operation.

In event of a Japanese drive to the southeast from the Marshalls it was presumed the U.S. fleet would be called to play an important role. Some observers saw the possibility a great naval battle might develop somewhere between Hawaii and New Zealand.

No Let-Down In Australia

The possibility the danger of direct attack on Australia is still present was voiced by Army Minister Francis Forde in a statement at Canberra warning against invasion.

"Although there is substantial improvement in local defences, Australia is not yet out of the woods and may have to meet a Japanese attack in force at any time," he said.

"Complacency and optimism resulted in the over-running of other countries. Australia must not make the same mistake."

Grounds for Mr. Forde's comment on the improvement in Australia's defences were seen in the reception which greeted a squadron of 24 Japanese bombers, escorted by fighters, which raided Darwin Saturday for the first time in three weeks.

A communiqué said eight enemy bombers and three fighters were shot down.

Bag One-third Of Enemy Planes

Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford declared the 11 planes shot down constituted one-third of the total attacking force, including fighters and bombers, and said that from the Japanese point of view this was "far too heavy a price to pay."

"Tokyo has been preening itself on Japan's alleged control of the air," he said, "but the sharp repulse administered by the Allies at Darwin following our recent raids on the Philippines and Tokyo should cause its exultation to cease abruptly."

Unofficially it was said the Darwin battle was the biggest and most successful fought over Australia to date.

The raiders were kept so high that their aim was inaccurate and the 500-pound bombs they dropped did little damage to their principal objective, the airport.

Three Zero type fighters swooped down through intense anti-aircraft fire to machine-gun the ground, but caused no casualties.

Enemy Fliers Fail At Port Moresby

Port Moresby, situated on the south shore of New Guinea facing Australia, was bombed Saturday and again Sunday, but damage here also was slight. A Japanese attack Saturday on Tulagi, in the Solomons, likewise caused "negligible damage," a communiqué said.

Allied communiqué reported no change in the Philippines during the week-end. Enemy air attacks on Corregidor were said to be decreasing and only minor operations were reported on Mindanao and Panay, where a Japanese force was said to have been repulsed at San Remigio.

Talent Show Winners To Perform Tuesday At Theatre

An entertaining program of song, dance and novelty acts by six talented young Victorians will be presented on the stage of the Capitol Theatre Tuesday night, from 8.30 to 9, the performance being held to decide the winner of the Solarium Junior League Talent Show, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Friday night.

Sponsored as a highlight of the "April Shower of Dimes" drive to raise funds for the Queen Alexandra Solarium, the talent show drew contestants from all parts of Victoria and from the three services, 24 selected acts being presented. Six winners were chosen by judges, the final winner to be decided by public choice Tuesday night when a special applause meter in the auditorium of the Capitol Theatre will register the audience's choice.

Those taking part will be the St. Louis College Boys' Band, Oak Bay High School Singing Septette, Joy Groves in monologues, and vocalists Iris Brooks, H. Rodney Dunn and Roberta Swayer. Substantial prizes in War Savings Certificates will be awarded.

Miss Anne Aitken Leaves Sister Here

NEWCASTLE, N.B. (CP)—Funeral of Miss Anne Aitken, sister of Lord Beaverbrook, will be held here Tuesday. It is doubtful if Lord Beaverbrook, leasehold co-ordinator in the United States will be able to attend the service.

Miss Aitken died at the old Aitken homestead, Saturday. She had been an invalid in recent years, and a heart ailment followed an attack of pneumonia last fall.

Mrs. Horatio Walker of Victoria, B.C., is a sister.

ABOUT

JOHNS-MANVILLE

'Wool' Bars Weather Like 11-foot Walls

Your reporter asked a Johns-Manville Home Insulation expert if he could tell, in just two short sentences, how much insulating value Rock Wool really provides. "That's easy," he said. "Just imagine yourself living in a house with walls and roof made of solid stone, 11 feet thick. That's exactly how much weather-protection you enjoy when the walls and attic of your home are insulated with a full thickness of J-M Rock Wool."

That graphic illustration certainly makes it easy to believe what thousands of Canadian home owners can back up with facts and figures: That Johns-Manville Rock Wool Home Insulation makes every room more comfortable, summer and winter.

For interesting free literature, giving the complete story of Rock Wool, call your J-M dealer, V. I. Hardwood Floor Company, 707 Johnson Street, G 7314.
